BEAR TRADERS TO BE CALLED IN SENATE QUIZ

Names of Those to Testify Not Made Public at White House

DEFEND SHORT SALES

Millers Oppose Legislation Which Would Prevent Free Trading

Washington—(AP)—Peter Carey, president of the Chicago Board of Trade, told a house committee today that it "might just as well close the grain markets of the country as to give the secretary of agriculture power to stop all short selling."

Washington—(AP)—President Hoover was informed today the senate banking committee intends to "call in several New York bear traders" for its hearing beginning tomorrow on short selling.

Senator Walcott (R., Conn.) said after a conference with the president that they had discussed short selling. He declined, however, to name those who would be called to testify. Walcott said he had gone over the list with the president.

The president has kept close track of the effect of bear raiding upon general market prices and has kept up to date in his office a large chart of short selling ramifications.

It was stated in a usually authoritative quarter recently that the president has obtained the names of a group of bear traders, but was refraining from publication because he had received them in confidence.

Millers and grain traders joined before the house agricultural committee in opposing restrictions on commodity future trading, including the practice of short selling.

The committee is considering legislation to give the secretary of agriculture authority to restrict or prohibit short sales on the grain and cotton exchanges.

Want Free Trading

Fred J. Lingham of Lockport, New York, spokesman for the Millers National federation, said:

"We, as millers, want to go on record as opposed to any legislation that will interfere with free trading. The authority in this bill is too much power to give any one man."

"Any restrictions on free trading will mean a larger margin between what the grower gets and what the consumer pays."

"If we could not hedge our contracts on a moment's notice we would have to operate on a wider margin."

George H. Davis, a Kansas City grain trader, said the proposed legislation "would gradually eliminate free and open markets." He added:

"When wheat was selling at 40 cents a bushel, we would require a 5 cent margin. If wheat was $1 it would be 10 to 20 cents. That would have to come out of the farmer."

"This bill would eliminate 60 to 70 per cent of the grain trade to the farmer. No one with less than 1,000,000 bushels could do business."

Before passing this bill, destroying the future markets you should make other provisions for marketing wheat."

Appearing also were Willis G. Helm of Minneapolis, Lester Perrin of Chicago, and George Hinckle of Kansas City.

Many Long on Wheat

Davis said "a lot of people are long on wheat now because they think the United States may go off the gold standard; other because the farm board may eventually corner the market."

"If the farm board would agree not to sell wheat until next December it would have a bullish effect," Davis replied to a question. "But with that wheat hanging over the market and selling 5,000,000 bushels a month, it has a bearish effect."

Frederick E. Wells of Minneapolis, said such restrictions as were proposed would slowly but surely eliminate a vast amount of trading and make the futures market to that extent ineffective as an insuring agency.

$75,000 Loss As Wholesale Store Burns

Cell Guarded

Chicago—(AP)—The government today established a 24-hour guard of deputy United States marshals at the cell door of "Scarface" Al Capone, awaiting in Cook-co jail the outcome of his appeal from an income tax conviction. The action constituted a precedent for federal prisoners in this area.

WOULD ASSESS RELATIVES OF STATE'S WARDS

Hannan Thinks Over $100,000 Could Be Saved Annually Under System

Madison—(AP)—At least $100,000 annually can be added to the state's general fund by compelling Wisconsin residents to pay something to the keep of their relatives committed to state institutions, John J. Hannan, president of the board of control, said yesterday at the emergency board budget cutting hearings.

Hannan reported that the control board itself and the various institutions under its direction will save approximately $260,000 in operating costs during this biennium and he proposed that a small portion of the savings be set aside for a system of making deductions from the relatives of state's wards.

"The savings out of the board's administration appropriations will be around $100,000 for this fiscal year, the remainder of the $260,000 coming from the institution allowances. Out of the $100,000, Hannan said, a collections system could be established which would return to the treasury between $100,000 and $125,000. Pointing out that the law entitles the state to be reimbursed for keeping persons whose relatives are able to pay, Hannan said that Wisconsin, through lack of systematic collection plan is getting very little while other states are being reimbursed anywhere from $100,000 to $1,000,000 a year.

The sums realized from such collections, he said, do not accrue to the board of control but go into the treasury for general purposes.

New Collection System

Rather than charge off the $100,000 saved by administration from the board's appropriations Hannan said it could be put to another more economical use in addition to establishing a collections system. That, he said, would be an enlargement of the probation department.

The board estimated, in making up its budget a year ago that there are in the Wisconsin state prison about 1,300 prisoners on probation. There has been such an unexpected increase that 1,400 are on probation now with the result that the number of paroled

Wisconsin Dairy Union Proposes To Dump Milk To Force Higher Price

Movement Instituted by 400 Farmers at Meeting in Calumet-co

Four hundred Calumet-co milk producers, cheese makers, bankers and business men gathered in Stomach's hall at St. John last night and organized the Wisconsin Dairy Union, which proposes to dump a portion of its milk supply in an effort to increase the demand for the product and thereby raise the price.

Those at the meeting, however, were careful to point out that they had no intention of trying to raise the price of milk to the consumer, holding that the consumer now is paying as much for milk as he was when the farmers were receiving a good price for their product. They claim that the middleman's costs are too high and that a part of this should be diverted to the producer of the milk without affecting the consumer.

Anton Loehr, a St. John merchant and proprietor of the Loehr cheese factory there, who was responsible for calling the meeting, was authorized to engage an officer and attempt to interest other farmers throughout Calumet-co and the state in the organization. It was Mr. Loehr who devised the plan of dumping milk to force higher prices. He called the meeting after many conferences with farmers and business men.

Mr. Loehr, who presided, outlined the plans by which it is hoped to build up a state-wide organization.

Urges Organization

"To start the wheels of progress to turn again after the worst depression this country has ever experienced, we must organize," Mr. Loehr said. "Dairy farmers are finding themselves on the verge of

COMPANY WILL CONTINUE IN BUSINESS HERE

Blaze Discovered by Workman Returning to His Home—Loss Partially Covered

Damage estimated at approximately $75,000 resulted from a fire at the Appleton Shirt and Pants company store, 222 W. Lawrence, early this morning. The loss is partially covered by insurance.

The loss to the building, which is almost totally destroyed, was estimated at $12,000. The building was owned by Mrs. Eva Russell. Loss to the stock and equipment was estimated by W. F. Mueller, president of the company, at between $55,000 and $65,000.

Between 25 and 30 men and women were employed by the firm as a sale has been in progress there. All of them will be thrown out of work immediately. Mr. Mueller says that normally the firm employs seven or eight men and women. While no definite plans have been made as yet, the company will remain in business here, either on the present site or in a new site, he said. It could not say how soon this would take place. Temporary offices have been opened in Smith's livery at the corner of S. Appleton and W. Lawrence-sts.

Started by Cigaret

Mr. Mueller said he thought the fire must have started as a result of someone throwing a cigarette down the elevator shaft, where it smoldered until the fire started.

Assistant Fire Chief Nick Reider, who had charge of the department in the absence of Chief George P. McGilgan, who is on his vacation, said he was unable to give the cause of the fire. He thought it might have started from a cigarette, but said he planned to make a further investigation.

The fire was discovered in the basement by John Bohren, 211 Lawrence-st, a bakery employe, as he was returning to his home from work. He called the fire department. In a few minutes before the flames shot up through the elevator shaft to the roof, the frame building was soon a mass of flames. Firemen had to break through a door to gain entrance to the flaming building.

Off-Shift Called

Three pumping engines and the hook and ladder truck answered the alarm, but only two of the pumps were used. Six lines of hose were laid and the firemen battled the blaze until shortly after 7 o'clock, when the fire was finally brought under control. It was necessary to call in the off-shift firemen to help fight the blaze. Almost the entire roof of the building was burned, and flames swept the interior of the second floor where the wholesale stock was stored. The firm's total loss, Mr. Mueller said, was also considerable damage to the retail stock of goods on the first floor, although water and smoke also did considerable damage. Mr. Mueller said he thought it would be possible to salvage some of the stock from the first floor.

The Appleton Shirt and Pants company was organized in Appleton in 1922, 49 years ago, by H. W. Russell and T. A. Gallagher. The firm located in the second floor of the building on E. College-ave, now occupied by McKinney's tailor shop.

Another Fire

Several years later a fire occurred in this building, so the firm moved its headquarters to a building on the Fox river, owned by the Fox River Paper company. The firm remained at this location until two years ago, when it moved to its present location. Mr. Mueller has been with the company since 1924. In 1921 the company was incorporated, and on March 15, 1920, it entered the retail business, with a store in Menasha and the store here. The store in Menasha will continue in operation, Mr. Mueller said.

420,000 Gallons

More than 420,000 gallons of water was used by the fire department in extinguishing the flames. Water was thrown onto the blaze at the rate of 420 gallons per minute, according to A. J. Hall, superintendent of the city pumping station and filtration plant.

Employees of the water department were called to stand guard at hydrants in the event that firemen experienced trouble. Workmen at the pumping station also were ready to meet the increased demand for water.

SECTOR QUIETS DOWN IN WAKE OF STERN CLASH

Chinese Claim Invaders Are Driven from Miao-chang-chien District

J A P S BOMB AIRPORTS

Beleagued Troops on Kiangwan Front Holding Out Against Attack

BY JAMES F. HOWE
(Copyright, 1932, Associated Press)

Shanghai (Saturday)—(AP)—In a slashing counter-attack just after midnight the Chinese army drove the enemy out of the Miao-chang-chien sector this morning and held on against desultory machine gun fire.

"We can't claim any great victory," said General Tsai Ting-kai in an early morning communique, "but we have succeeded in ousting the Japanese from the Miao-chang-chien sector during a counter-attack. The outcome of Friday's fighting was more than gratifying."

When the fury of the attack had spent itself the sector subsided into relative quiet and on the Chapel front there were only occasional outbursts of artillery and rifle fire as scouting parties stalked each other in no man's land.

On the Kiangwan front, where the Japanese have threatened to "bomb them out or starve them out," the beleaguered Chinese were holding the town against the greater part of the attacking party.

Shanghai—(AP)—Japanese naval aviators equipped with heavy bombers, began a sweeping campaign today to destroy all Chinese aviation fields over a wide district around Shanghai while on the short sector northwest of Kiangwan the Japanese delivered another fierce attack upon the Chinese without gaining much ground.

A Japanese naval spokesman said late this afternoon that Japanese fleet bombers had destroyed the airfield at Hangchow this morning, destroying a number of Chinese planes and that they continued their raids, bombing three additional fields later in the day.

Late this afternoon, he said, they were still out hunting additional Chinese fields in the vicinity of Hangchow. Upwards of a dozen Chinese planes were destroyed by bombs, he said, before they had a chance to leave the ground and three were shot out of bounds by machine guns. The out of bounds planes, which were Japanese lost or captured. Chinese forces in Hangchow bay, who it is said, he said, but the pilot was picked up by a Japanese destroyer.

The chief attack on the Kiangwan front, officials at Japanese headquarters said, was delivered by a single company which asked permission to wreak revenge on the Chinese for the killing of their captain in yesterday's battle. They went over the top in a fierce assault, led by a sergeant and gained 100 meters of ground from the Chinese position, although they failed to surround or capture stubborn Kiangwan.

Groves Cut Down

In the vicinity of the Japanese headquarters where several officers narrowly missed Chinese bullets, the bamboo groves were leveled and the ruins of nearby homes were completely razed.

Four Chinese shells dropped near General Gyda's headquarters last night, Japanese officers said, they expected fresh counterattacks. Chinese positions tonight, pointing out the Chinese attack only at night in order to avoid Japanese artillery and air bombardment against which they are defenseless.

The Chinese authorities, claiming today to have regained most of the ground they lost in yesterday's battle, said they had recaptured the village of Miao-chang-chien, but Japanese officials denied this.

Code messages from Japan to observers here today said the Japanese soon would have a full army corps here under General Yoshinori Shirakawa, that one or two divisions already were on the way and that three more divisions were being mobilized.

In view of this information and other developments indicating that a decisive battle will be fought next week, both sides were making haste to reinforce their positions tonight.

The Chinese order prohibiting correspondents to visit areas in the rear was taken as an indication that General Tsai is shifting his position, shoving in fresh troops who must march many miles because the railway lines have been wrecked. The Chinese commander appeared to realize the urgent necessity of having all available troops in the Kiangwan district before the Japanese reinforcements arrive.

A fierce battle, in which Japanese and Chinese artillery exchanged shell for shell in a deafening bombardment, raged around Kiangwan today and both sides claimed the advantage.

Chinese officials announced during the day that General Chiang

HOOVER LED INTO PANIC--GARNER

Hurley Charges Raskob "Slanders and Misrepresents" President

Washington—(AP)—President Hoover's economic and prohibition views crashed into the pre-convention presidential race spotlight today.

Secretary Hurley said Chairman Raskob of the Democratic national committee and his associates were "slandering and misrepresenting the president" and were not in a position to give the executive's prohibition views.

At the same time, Speaker Garner, who is being pushed for the Democratic presidential nomination, said at a press conference that the president had "led us into the greatest panic the country or world has ever known."

The war secretary's statement was made in reply to a speech by Raskob last night in New York in which the Democratic chairman said he had "good information on a prohibition referendum platform if his party should adopt such a platform."

Newspapermen asked for comment.

"Mr. Raskob is in a position to speak much more accurately of the amount of money that he and his associates have spent slandering and misrepresenting the president of the United States than he is as to the president's views on the 18th amendment," the secretary replied.

"It appears a little far-fetched for the chairman of the Democratic national committee to attempt to interpret the views of the president on the subject."

Asked if he was speaking for the president, the secretary smiled slightly and said:

"No, I'm not speaking for the president."

Garner's statement was made when he was asked to comment on a speech by Assistant Secretary Jahncke of the navy, last night at Wooster, Ohio, in which Jahncke said President Hoover's leadership since Congress convened had made the Democrats "just a little bit dizzy."

"Since he has been president," the Texas Democrat said, "Hoover has led us into the greatest panic the country or world has ever known. The country will determine the correctness of Jahncke's statements."

CREDIT EXPANSION BILL IS APPROVED

Conference Report Up to Senate—May Reach White House Tonight

Washington—(AP)—The Glass-Steagall credit expansion measure moved toward the White House.

After a brief explanation by Representative Steagall (D., Ala.), the house quickly approved a conference report on the bill to liberalize rediscount facilities of the Federal reserve system.

Senator Glass (D., Va.), co-author of the measure, was present when the vote was taken and was prepared to call it up in the senate during the afternoon. There was strong probability it would become law with President Hoover's signature.

The senate interstate commerce committee approved the nomination of Thad Brown of Ohio to become a member of the radio commission. A bill providing for Philippine independence within 19 years was approved by the senate territories committee.

BAIL PROVIDED FOR EDITOR AT OSHKOSH

Oshkosh—(AP)—The editorial office of the Square Dealer no longer are in the Winnebago-co jail.

Roland N. Senn, editor of the publication, held on a $1,000 bail, was released yesterday on $1,000 bail. The bond was put up by E. R. Brannigan, former member of the Beloit city council. Brannigan said he was glad to come to the aid of the editor because he recently had been jailed himself in somewhat similar circumstances.

Senn had said that if he were not freed on bond, he would direct publication of the paper from the county jail.

Senn put the finishing touches on the "jail edition" of the paper before leaving. He said it would deal with the freedom of the press. He was to be arraigned today.

WOMEN FAIL TO WIN PLACE AT DISARMAMENT CONCLAVE

Geneva—(AP)—The conference bureau today defeated an attempt of women's peace organizations to obtain an official position in the work of the world disarmament conference.

Their cause was championed by Senor Salvador de Madaragay, the Spanish delegate, who presented a resolution proposing the formation of a special commission of women from unofficial organizations to be an advisory body to the conference.

The British and American delegations took the position that delegates are appointed by governments and that women may have seats in the conference by the same procedure as men, that is by appointments of their governments.

GERMAN REDS LOSE IN VOTE

Reichstag Votes Down Move to Stop Payments on All Foreign Debts

Berlin—(AP)—By a vote of 368 to 75, the German Reichstag today defeated a Communist motion to "stop all payment of tribute based on the Versailles treaty and annul all private debts to capitalist countries."

Adolf Hitler's National Socialists, the Nationalists and the populists, all numbered among the opposition to Chancellor Bruening, voted against the motion, but the said afterward they would have accepted the first part of the proposal had it been offered separately.

In other words, they said, the defeat of this motion does not mean that there is in the Reichstag a majority favoring continuation of reparations payments.

Earlier a combined non-confidence motion against the Bruening government was defeated in the Reichstag today by a vote of 289 to 264.

The vote came as a climax of four days of debate on the presidential election situation and gave the government ten more votes than it had expected in predicting a victory for Bruening. That prediction was based on a 15-vote margin.

The vote, which in effect repulses confidence in the often assailed government of the "chancellor of decrees" followed closely a unanimous decision of the Reichstag to fix presidential election dates for March 13 and if necessary a second date of April 10. Great hilarity greeted this unusual spectacle of unity.

A Nationalist motion to dissolve the Reichstag was voted down, 299 to 228.

Sixty men at the city of Seattle's construction camp on the Skagit river north of Seattle were clearing away a snowslide which engulfed ten men yesterday. They hope to recover the bodies of four workers who failed to escape the tons of snow.

The other six were rescued a few hours after the slide.

Local federal officials, at a conference with relatives yesterday, said they were unable to reduce the bail without Watermolen's consent. Walter Kiley, the banker's brother, George Steckart, his brother-in-law, and Fred M. Smith, city attorney at De Pere, conferred with officials here.

Capital City Bank Stockholders Map Plans For Institution

COMMITTEE OF 28 NAMED TO ACT FOR GROUP

Hobbins Family Agrees to Put Property in Trust for Creditors

Madison—(P)—More than 1,200 creditors of the closed Capital City bank crowded into the Central high school auditorium last night and, after a turbulent session, selected a committee of 28 to represent them in determining whether the bank shall be liquidated, sold or reorganized.

A state Senator Glenn D. Roberts, attorney for the Hobbins family, heavy stockholders in the bank, reported that the family will place in trust its property on the capital square for the benefit of the creditors. This was worth $1,600,000 two years ago and recently has been appraised at half that sum, Roberts said.

Animosity toward the Hobbins family was revealed in the selection of the committee of 28 which will carry on negotiations with the stockholders and the banking department.

Some of the creditors resented a tentative slate of 25 submitted by a group of creditors who have been investigating the bank's affairs in the interest of reorganization, protesting that they would not submit to any "cut and dried" plan.

Suitable committee selections finally were made after much discussion in which J. W. Jackson's name was voted off the list because he was related to the Hobbins family.

In case the bank is reorganized it will be non-political and the Hobbins family will have no official connection with it, Senator Roberts said.

Asks About Assessment
Some members of the audience demanded to know whether the reorganization scheme included a 100 per cent assessment of the stockholders and why the banking commissioner had not levied an assessment inasmuch as the bank has been closed for more than three months.

Roberts said he could not say what the commissioner will do and pointed out that the time for making an assessment is not fixed by law.

The senator said that through the trust agreement on the Hobbins property, which includes several parcels on the square partly encumbered by mortgages any income from rents, leases or refinancing would go to the creditors.

While the appraised value already has been cut in two, or further reduced by one-half, it would still pay in full on Mr. Hobbins' double liability as a stockholder, he said.

Roberts stated that he and others working with 25 selected creditors have directed most of their efforts toward reorganization believing that most desirable for all creditors.

Plans for a reorganized bank with $100,000 capital were made but this was upset by the merger of the First National bank and the State Bank of Wisconsin so that new plans were started for a $300,000 capitalization, he asserted.

Funds for a reorganization would be solicited from the public generally, Roberts said.

ADDED FUNDS APPROVED FOR TOKIO TROOPS

Japanese Cabinet Approves Additional 22 Million Yen

Tokio—(P)—An extraordinary appropriation of 22,000,000 yen ($7,040,000 at the present rate) was approved by the Japanese cabinet today to meet additional military expenses in connection with the expedition to Shanghai.

The army received 20,000,000 yen and the navy 2,000,000 yen.

This was the second special appropriation made for the Shanghai expedition. A total of 34,000,000 yen was authorized on Feb. 9, bringing the authorization to date to 56,000,000 yen or nearly 19,000,000 at the present rate of exchange.

The money is expected to be raised by domestic bond issue.

The appropriation authorized today required the consent of the privy council, but this was believed to have been assured.

Besides these appropriations for the Shanghai expedition, an appropriation of 42,000,000 yen was voted for the Manchurian campaign some time ago which, in addition to the appropriations this month brings the total to approximately $31,500,000 at the current exchange rate, or $49,000,000 at par. Further appropriations are expected to be submitted to a special session of the diet in April in the form of a supplementary budget.

The cost of maintaining the Manchurian and Shanghai expeditions indefinitely was estimated at 10,000,000 (about $3,200,000) a month.

Predict Difficulties
The Bank of Japan and the government deposits bureau were expected to take up the necessary bond issues, but in many quarters, a considerable dislocation of the country's financial condition was predicted.

Opinion in Japan, as expressed thus far, has generally been hostile in tone to Secretary Stimson's letter of a few days ago.

The newspaper Asahi said in an editorial today that "not by doubting Japan's motive, but by cooperating with her will America enable China to stand on her own feet."

The editorial criticized Secretary Stimson's reference to the naval treaty and reminded the United States that the Washington conference entailed sacrifices from all the participants and not from America alone.

"The newspaper Jiji said the Stimson letter was 'harmful' and that there is no question of an economic blockade, which it added, is a 'harmful idea' which it considered could be seriously entertained by United States authorities. The newspaper expressed anxiety, however, lest President Hoover be led by public opinion and the nearness of a presidential election to daily with the proposal.

AUTO INTAKE MAY BE USED AS COOLER FOR PICNIC BASKETS

Pennsylvania Professor Experimenting With Potential Refrigerator

BY HOWARD W. BLAKESLEE (Associated Press Science Editor)
State College, Pa.—(P)—There is a potential refrigerator in the intake manifold of every automobile and, theoretically, there is an apparently simple method of converting it into a useful cooler for food and drink. The refrigerator is the fuel on route to the engine.

Some experiments in the mechanical laboratory at Pennsylvania State college showing these possibilities are described by F. C. Stewart, associate professor of mechanical engineering.

He emphasizes that beyond the assembling of the basic data, no experimental work with such an automobile refrigerator has been carried out.

Uses Usual Principle
The idea, he says, is to use in the automobile the usual refrigeration principle, which is already in operation but going to waste. In the ordinary mechanical refrigerator there is a chamber where atmospheric pressure is reduced—a partial vacuum created.

In this reduced pressure the refrigerator boils more easily, just as in high altitudes water boils at lower temperature than at sea level.

In the ordinary refrigerating system the refrigerant, in boiling, absorbs heat from its surroundings, and so produces cold. A pump must be used to draw off the vapor produced in this boiling and force it into a condenser where it reverts to its liquid state and is returned to the cold chamber to boil again.

In the automobile the engine itself is the pump, and Prof. Stewart proposes a method of using it which adds nothing to the engine's work.

Every stroke of the piston which draws fresh fluid into the engine reduces the pressure in the gasoline manifold, especially in the intake manifold. Because of this reduction the gasoline boils more readily, that is, it vaporizes.

This is a reproduction of the principle of refrigeration, and so the intake manifold ought to be cold, unless mechanically heated. Experiment

Forum Speaker

Members of the chamber of commerce and luncheon clubs will hear an address by Arthur F. Briese, Chicago humorist, at the fourth and last forum dinner meeting at Conway hotel next Monday noon. Reservations are being received at the chamber office.

BRIESE TO SPEAK AT FORUM DINNER

Chicago Humorist to Entertain at Joint Meeting of Chamber, Clubs

Arthur F. Briese, Chicago, American humorist, will be the speaker at the fourth and last of a series of four joint meetings between Appleton luncheon clubs and the chamber of commerce Monday noon at Conway hotel. The Lions club will sponsor the meeting, and members of Rotary, Kiwanis and Optimist club will attend. Many reservations already have been received at the chamber office.

Mr. Briese's subject has not been announced, but his appearance in Appleton is expected to provide a fitting climax to the chamber's forum series. He is said to be a new discovery in the field of entertainment, and his humor is keen and subtle.

He has appeared before many state and national meetings. Recently he spoke at the Chicago Executive club gathering in Chicago, entertained the Chicago Collegiate club and the University of Michigan club and gave one of the principal talks at the Ohio State Medical association convention.

Forum dinner meetings this year were arranged by Dr. Lyle Douglas Utts, rector of All Saints Episcopal church.

CITY EXPERIENCES IDEAL MAY WEATHER

Balmy Breezes from South Send Mercury to 50 Degrees Above Zero

Balmy spring breezes greeted Appleton residents as they awoke this morning. Most of the frost is out of the ground and the little ice and snow in various parts of the city was soon melted. Skating rinks were reduced to miniature lakes, and with the frost out of the ground water has started to disappear.

New high temperatures for the month were recorded today. At 6 o'clock this morning the mercury registered 35 degrees above zero, a new high morning temperature, and at noon it registered 50 degrees above, a record high noon temperature for February.

Warmer weather is scheduled for tonight and Saturday, the weatherman says. Tonight skies will be cloudy, but fair weather will prevail Saturday. Winds are shifting in the south and southwest.

LAWRENCE DEBATERS GOING TO GREEN BAY

Two Lawrence college debate teams will travel to Green Bay Monday where they will discuss the essential features of the Stuart Chase plan for the stabilization of business at a noon luncheon meeting of the Green Bay Kiwanis club. Kenneth Johnson and Roland Boyer will present the affirmative arguments, and Philip Bradley and John Schneider the negative viewpoint.

Months at Penn State show that it is cold. In summer temperatures of 70 and 80 degrees, the intake manifold is about 40 degrees.

To obtain a useful cooler for an automobile Prof. Stewart would use this cold. He suggests some of the fuel on route to the engine be defouled and used as a refrigerant to chill a cooling unit of a small refrigerator in the car.

To insure continuous vaporization he would draw the air for the carburetor through the cooling unit. The whole operation should cool a small refrigerator, just as the vaporizing gasoline now chills the intake manifold.

A highly volatile fuel would be needed, Prof. Stewart says, and he estimates that such an outfit should maintain, in hot weather, a refrigerator temperature of about 50 degrees.

Instead of being condensed for use over and over again, the fuel from the cooling unit would pass into the engine and burn exactly like fuel introduced in the regular manner.

LABOR SURPLUS IS REPORTED IN BADGER CITIES

Condition of Employment Situation Revealed by Industrial Body

Madison—(P)—A surplus of labor exists in the principal cities of the state, the Wisconsin industrial commission reported today.

Superintendents of the 10 public employment offices conducted by the commission with the cooperation of the United States employment service reported as follows:

Ashland—A surplus of labor in all lines of industry, especially common labor, woodsmen and railroad men. Local factories on short hours. No work in construction industry. Fifty men employed for two weeks in ice harvest. Repairs on docks giving employment to about 50 men.

LaCrosse—An extensive surplus of labor in practically all lines of manufacturing, building construction and clerical pursuits. One garment company has increased its working force. About 100 men now employed on highway projects.

Green Bay—Ice harvest gave employment to about 150 men during past two weeks. Work will continue for two weeks more. Railway shops running in two shifts of three days each. Unemployment most prevalent among railway workers, metal tradesmen and semi-skilled factory hands.

Madison—Public relief work giving employment to 400 men. Many laborers and mechanics unemployed. Ice harvest employs about 150 men.

Milwaukee—There has been some slight improvement in employment in the shoe, textile and automobile industries, but gains not large enough to materially improve the general employment situation. A large surplus of labor in all lines of industry. Local factories continue on "reduced hours" as in the past.

Oshkosh—Approximately 5,500 factory workers in wood-working and metal working lines on part time employment. A wagon plant has started operations on a large scale. The city has started work in building a new storm sewer.

Racine—The unemployment relief committee has provided work on public buildings, city streets and water works extension to about 300 men on a basis of four hours for day.

Large surplus of labor of all classes. Small probability of transients securing work.

BUILD PLANE WITH TELESCOPIC WINGS FOR OCEAN FLIGHT

Sliding Wings Designed for Safe Supporting Force in Taking Off

BY MINOTT SAUNDERS
Paris—An airplane with a telescopic wing which, it is claimed, will be able to fly from Paris to New York within twelve hours has been successfully tested here and astonished experts by its revolutionary design. It is the invention of Ivan Makhonine, a young Russian aviation engineer living in Paris.

The principle of the sliding wing is to have a safe supporting force in taking off and landing, but a greatly reduced surface in straight flight. The wing may be reduced or extended in length by the pilot manipulating a crank in the cockpit.

An airplane thus equipped can take off with full load, and at a safe altitude the wingspread can be cut down almost half, greatly reducing head resistance and increasing speed with less gas consumption. The wing can be stretched out to the limit to ensure safety in landing.

Makhonine made his first tests at Villacoublay Aerodrome in a low wing monoplane driven by a 450 horsepower Lorraine motor. The maximum wing spread of 21 meters held the cruising speed of the machine to about 100 miles an hour, but when the wing was drawn in, telescoping from each end into a center section, the speed was increased to 180 miles. When drawn in the wing spread was eleven meters. Strong bar supports running through the center of the wing also telescoped.

The machine was flown by Gaston Duremon, chief pilot of Cidna, one of the largest commercial aviation companies in Europe, which is backing the invention, and he declared it fulfilled all the claims for it.

M. Duremon said he was ready to fly such a machine to New York and Makhonine is now making preparations for such a flight by way of experiment. He believes that his plane can be made to develop 300 miles an hour and maintain it throughout a long trip. He hopes to be ready for a trans-Atlantic flight late in September. He said he would not try to make the trip to New York in twelve hours because of the strain on one pilot, but would "take it easy" and get to New York in 18 hours.

"At present an airplane preparing for a long distance flight is really a flying petrol tank," he said. "It has a large spread of wings to enable it to lift the heavy load on taking off, and its standard speed is regulated by the construction. As the load of gas grows less through consumption the average speed must become less because the center of gravity changes and this has to be corrected by means of the elevators."

"With the variable wing of my machine this fault may be corrected without loss of speed. Once in the air the wing spread may be reduced, thus increasing the speed to normal cruising rate, which can be maintained until the end of the flight."

American Women Active In Hospitals At Shanghai

Shanghai—(P)—American women are willingly aiding in this emergency which has filled Shanghai's hospitals with wounded soldiers, many of them mere boys.

Mrs. O. J. Bryant of San Francisco, and Mrs. Roscoe Hambleton of Long Beach, Calif., are on active duty at the Chinese General Red Cross hospital where there also are four American physicians, Dr. Athria Mowreath, a Fort Worth, Texas, woman; Dr. J. R. B. Branch of London-co, Va.; Dr. Love Rankling, Sweetwater, Tenn., and Dr. R. S. Lyman, Hartford, Conn.

They are putting in long hours without complaint, for the wounded stream into the wards day and night. They see war at its worst, for only the most serious cases are brought to their hospital. The others are treated at field dressing stations.

The victims are appallingly young, some of them not more than 14 or 15—boys who never will see again, children who have lost legs and arms, others frightfully wounded about the face.

Many cases are hopeless, but the nurses do what they can to make the last hours as comfortable as possible.

Today 350 were brought in, nearly all of them victims of Japanese bombing raids. Despite their wounds many of them clung tenaciously to their precious rifles right up to the gates of the settlement where soldiers of the neutral forces seized the guns.

"It's a real satisfaction to help these poor fellows," said Mrs. Hambleton, "every foreigner on this staff is going to stay on the job until the emergency is over."

GOVERNMENT BONDS GUARANTEE INTEREST RATE OF 2 PER CENT

Oshkosh—(P)—Government bonds, to be placed on sale in March in the federal anti-hoarding movement, will have a guaranteed interest rate of 2 per cent, it was announced today by F. J. Sensenbrenner, Neenah.

Sensenbrenner, state chairman of the Citizens Reconstruction Organization, said this morning that official information on the interest rate had been given him Thursday by Col. Frank Knox, Chicago publisher, who is national chairman of the Reconstruction Organization.

DISCUSS WASHINGTON, LINCOLN IN DEBATE

"Resolved that Washington was a better man than Lincoln" was the subject of a debate at Sunset school Thursday evening, between teams of Pleasant View and Sunset schools. The affirmative team won the decision of the judges, although the majority of the audience in an open vote pronounced the negative team victorious.

Negative debaters of Pleasant View school were Hugh Sampson and Mrs. Sybil Strong, and those on the affirmative side were Miss Violet Sweet and Mrs. Edna Gunderson. Judges were Courtney Walte, Miss Edith Gilson and Miss Gertrude Worth.

PASTOR TO PREACH

GUARD AGAINST DIPHTHERIA GERMS

No Excuse for Deaths from This Disease, Says City Physician

Urging toxin-antitoxin treatment for all children, Dr. F. P. Dohearty, city physician, said Friday that there should be no cases of diphtheria in this day and age.

"Today there is no excuse for deaths from diphtheria," he said, because toxin-antitoxin has been proved a reliable preventative. While the county toxin-antitoxin campaign is on I would advise all parents to have their children vaccinated. It takes from two to three months after receiving the treatment to become immunized."

Appleton has had two cases of diphtheria within the last few weeks, and in Kaukauna one death resulted from the disease recently.

CHAMBER PLANS CAMPAIGN FOR PUBLIC SAFETY

Surprised at High Accident Rate Reported by National Council

Organization of a permanent committee of the chamber of commerce to study in detail traffic and public safety problems in this city is recommended by the special chamber committee appointed a few months ago by C. K. Boyer, chamber president. The committee is composed of C. E. Saechel, C. D. Thompson and George C. Dame.

The special committee has also recommended that the scope and authority of this committee be as broad as possible with the hope of making the subject of public safety a project of the entire city and not of the chamber alone. It is further recommended that the chamber join the National Safety council so that full information on public safety can be obtained from that source.

The special committee was appointed after the chamber learned that Appleton's safety records were far below those of other cities in this part of the Fox River valley. That Appleton's death rate from traffic accidents was exceedingly high was revealed in a report received some time ago at the chamber office from the National Safety council.

Fatalities Increase

Council figures revealed that there was an alarming increase in fatalities, injuries and property damage from traffic accidents in Appleton during the past three years, while reports compiled in other cities showed a decrease, Oshkosh having no fatalities due to automobile accidents in 1931.

Figures compiled here showed that last year 10 people were killed in accidents compared with two fatalities in 1930. They also revealed that 47 persons were injured in 1931 compared to 31 in 1930. Cars damaged in accidents here in 1931 totaled 89 compared to 72 the preceding year.

The report indicated that these accidents were caused by automobiles skidding on ice and snow, careless driving at street and highway intersections, and other reasons.

The chamber believes that if an active committee is appointed with authority to proceed with an effective program of safety first, much can be done toward eliminating accidents. The chamber hopes to get the cooperation of other community agencies in carrying out this work.

PHONE CO. PATRONS FIGHT RATE BOOST

Threaten to Discontinue Service if Charges Are Increased

Madison—(AP)—All except three of the 77 subscribers of five telephone companies receiving switchboard service from the Markesan Telephone company have threatened to discontinue the service if switching rates are increased.

The 74 subscribers delivered their ultimatum at a hearing before the public service commission this week. The switching rate is now $7.20 per year, having been reduced to that rate from $9.00 by the commission. The Markesan company obtained a temporary injunction in Dane county circuit court preventing the commission from enforcing the new rate.

R. M. Rieser, Madison attorney, H. A. Price, secretary, and Winston Price, bookkeeper, the latter two employees of the company, contended that a $7.20 switching rate is inadequate, in view of the concern's investment.

The subscribers who appeared at the hearing contended that the depression, crop failures and low prices for agricultural products prevented them from paying the $9.00 rate and they threatened to discontinue service if the lower rate is not allowed.

The public service commission expects the farmers and the company to reach a compromise agreement in the near future.

OTIS SKINNER TO PLAY SHYLOCK IN SHAKESPEARE PLAY

"Merchant of Venice" to Be Shown at Lawrence Chapel March 11

Appleton theatregoers and drama lovers are to be accorded a rare treat on Friday, March 11, when Otis Skinner and Maude Adams come to Lawrence Memorial chapel to appear in Shakespeare's famous comedy, "The Merchant of Venice."

In their presentation of the comedy the two famous players will be supported by a company trained in the technique and traditions of Shakespearean acting. In addition to Miss Adams as Portia and Mr. Skinner as Shylock, the company will include Jessome Lawler as Bassanio, Charles Francis as Antonio, Barry O'Neill as Gratiano, David Stone as Tubal, Joseph Curtin as Launcelot Gobbo, Martin Burton as Lorenzo, Audrey Ridgewell as Nerissa, and Cynthia Blake as Jessica. Miss Adams is playing Portia this season for the first time in her repertory, although she has appeared in a number of other Shakespearean roles in her career, including Juliet, Rosalind, and Viola. Mr. Skinner's portrayal of Shylock is already well known to American theatregoers, although he has not portrayed the part in recent years.

The scenery for this production has been designed by Herbert Moore, working in collaboration with Monroes Hewitt, and it was painted at the Robert W. Bergman studios. The costumes were executed and designed by Mary Stonehill.

According to Howard Herrick, "the return of Maude Adams to the stage after 13 years retirement to play Portia opposite Otis Skinner's Shylock in 'The Merchant of Venice' stands unique in the annals of the American theatre for the nationwide interest it aroused at the time of the premiere in Cleveland recently and which continued unabated wherever these two beloved figures of the American stage elect to play."

"The phenomenal nationwide interest in the return of Maude Adams to the stage," continues Mr. Herrick, "is evidently one of those exceptions which prove the rule. The rule in this case is that the audience does not remember the great ones of stage, screen, music, and literature unless they keep active and in the public eye. The exception which proves the rule is already evident in the extraordinary interest already displayed in the return to the stage of Maude Adams, the most beloved figure in the history of the American stage."

Tickets for the production will go on sale the early part of next week, according to R. J. Watts, business manager of Lawrence college.

factors, particularly of our fast diminishing brook trout. Let's suppose the season for pike, muskies and northern pike were opened May 1, as it should be. Here is the result it would have on the trout, the season for catching which begins May 1: A great portion of the fly rod devotees, instead of haunting the trout streams, would be out on the lakes and rivers after the former fish. And all experienced fishermen know the trout are badly in need of help. In fact, the season for catching them should be closed entirely for a few years.

The pike and muskies are through spawning by May 1. There is no logical reason whatever for not allowing them to be caught three weeks earlier in all waters. And no discrimination should be shown as is now the case. Why allow pike fishing on the Wolf river up as far as New London all through the spawning season? And, if we are talking conservation, why allow winter ice fishing on Lake Winnebago, which is the winter home of these excellent fish?

No Longer Available

So far as brook trout are concerned, it is no longer possible to catch any good sized fish in any numbers. Now and then a good specimen is landed, but it is the exception to the rule. Most of them that are taken are small and immature. They are better eating than the big ones, of course, but that is not why they are taken. It is because there are very few good sized fish left in the streams. Most of those planted are immediately eaten up by their brothers, and the rest are caught out before they have a chance to grow to any size.

Soviet Demands Explanation From Japs On Railway Proposal

TOKIO ASKED ABOUT PLAN TO MOVE TROOPS

Red Officer Charges Japanese Protecting White Russian Forces

Moscow.—(P)—The Soviet government, it was learned today made a formal demand last Wednesday on Koki Hirota, Japanese ambassador, for an explanation of a proposal of the Japanese command in Manchuria to use the Chinese Eastern railway, partly Russian owned, for troop transportation, charging that "in reality the troops were expected to be sent to the Soviet border."

The quest for an explanation was made by L. M. Karakhan, Soviet acting commissar for foreign affairs. It was revealed today following the publication in Moscow newspapers of reports from the correspondent of the Tass (Russian) news agency at Peiping that a "white" Russian force was being recruited in northern Manchuria under Japanese auspices to invade Vladivostok and the Russian province of Primor.

The dispatch to the Tass agency from Peiping was dated Feb. 23, two days before acting Commissar Karakhan's request, although it was published only yesterday.

M. Karakhan's conversation with the Japanese ambassador was verbal. He charged that the "white" Russian activities were being carried on in Manchuria "under the protection of the Japanese army."

For this he also requested an explanation from the Japanese government.

Japs Suggest Contract. Besides this, he said, Japanese military authorities of Harbin proposed a contract with the Chinese Eastern railway to transport regular troops at a reduction of 50 percent of the ordinary cost and to carry gratis Japanese troops sent to guard the railway. In addition, he called for information about the character of the newly formed Manchurian government.

The dispatch to the Tass agency from Peiping also said that the Japanese Manchurian forces planned to attack Trans-Baikal province, the eastern terminus of the Chinese Eastern railway, at the same time that the "white" Russian group was to invade Primor province.

Karakhan questioned Ambassador Hirota's point that the Japanese called attention to the request of the Japanese command at Harbin for 17 troop trains to move soldiers from Imienpo to Pogradich.

He said this request was made "under the pretext of defending the lives of Japanese residents in the latter city," but it was "not usual, because the troops were expected to be sent to the Soviet border."

"Such a matter," he said, "is not within the authority of the board of the Chinese Eastern railway and the Soviet government would like to know if the request was made with the approval of the Japanese government. If it was, the Soviet government wants an explanation."

Political Question. Secondly, Ambassador Hirota was told the action of the Japanese military command at Harbin in proposing the contract for reduced rates for Japanese troops was "of a political character" and could not be decided by the railway management because the railway is a strictly commercial enterprise.

"The question is related," M. Karakhan said, "to the existing treaty between the Soviet Union and Japan on the one side and the Soviet Union and China on the other. The Soviet government asks whether the Japanese government really knows about this and requests an explanation."

Thirdly, M. Karakhan, requesting an explanation of the activities of "white" Russians in Manchuria, informed the ambassador these activities were being carried out "under the protection and direct support of the Japanese" and that these facts did not coincide with "previous declarations made to the Soviet government that 'white' Russians would not be supported by the Japanese."

Fourthly, he asked information about the new Manchurian government which the Soviet press has charged is a mere puppet directed by Japan. Ambassador Hirota promised to refer the inquiries to Tokio.

Note General's Speech. At the same time, Moscow newspapers made public a speech of General Blukher, chief of the Far Eastern Soviet army at Khabarovsk, on the occasion of the fourteenth anniversary of the red army.

The Far Eastern army, General Blukher was quoted as saying, "having grown stronger with each year, is ready at any time to defend the country as it proceeds to build Socialism."

"Under present conditions in the far east we must be especially vigilant. We will not allow a 'white' guard imperialist cannibal to smash our Soviet Union and our collective fields with their dirty boots. If anybody tries to stretch his dirty paws for our coal, timber and oil wells, he may be sure that for each ton of coal, each cubic meter of timber, each tractor, and each pound of fish we will fight stronger and more obstinately than we fought in 1920."

"Let this be remembered by those who try to attack us," he concluded, adding the words of Joseph Stalin, Soviet dictator: "We do not want an inch of foreign land but we will not give up a single inch of ours."

Last Portrait Just Discovered

It may not be art, or even a good likeness, but the portrait of George Washington reproduced above is historically important because it is the last one known to have been made of him from life. Its date is 1799, the year of Washington's death, and it was executed in crayon color by Dr. Elisha C. Dick, a physician who attended Washington during his last illness and who marked a clock at Mt. Vernon to show the exact moment of the first President's death. The portrait, executed on the back of a parchment certificate of membership in a Masonic lodge to which both Washington and Dr. Dick belonged, recently was discovered at Alexandria, Va.

CHINESE SAY JAPANESE ARE FORCED BACK

Sector Quiets Down After Bitter Struggle Between Two Armies

Kai-Shek, Chinese army generalissimo, and former president, had decided to enter the Shanghai battle himself at the head of large groups of reinforcements and that he was expected to arrive in the lines to fight or to arrive.

Recover Lost Ground. By desperate fighting, the Chinese succeeded in recovering much of the ground they lost in yesterday's battle north of Kiangwan. Japanese officials announced at noon, however, that they had finally surrounded Kiangwan village the stubborn hub of the wheeling movement they have directed vainly against Tachang.

Observers were inclined to take the Japanese claims with some reservation, but the Japanese described their encircling the village as opening the complete surrounding movement at which they have been aiming for two or three days.

The Chinese reported that a large squadron of Japanese planes bombed Chinese aviation headquarters at Hangchow, 100 miles to the southwest during the morning. Advances from Nanking said eight Chinese airplanes engaged a squadron of about 25 Japanese planes in the Hangchow battle and that there were reports that one Chinese plane was shot down and another driven into a forced landing.

Early in the day the Chinese opened a fierce artillery bombardment on the Japanese strongholds in Hongkew park. The Japanese guns answered shell for shell.

Conflicting Reports. Heavy casualties on the enemy were claimed by each side. The Japanese said that the Chinese casualties ran into the thousands while they themselves suffered less than 100 killed and wounded. The Chinese on the other hand, insisted that losses were negligible and estimated the Japanese casualties at 700 dead and wounded which, they said, the Japanese were trying to hide.

Early in the day the Chinese announced that they had cleared the last Japanese soldier out of the village of Miaochunshew which was occupied late yesterday when the Japanese broke the Chinese first line. The Japanese said, however, that they held the village of Kiangchao, a mile northwest of Kiangwan.

A smaller offensive was launched by the Japanese left flank between Kiangwan and Chienlu and resulted in slight gains.

General Tsai Ting-Kai, Chinese 18th route army commander, told friends that he had less than two weeks' supply of ammunition on hand and that the problem seemed to be worrying him somewhat. He urged that pressure be exerted on the government at Nanking to rush men and ammunition in view of the impending arrival of Japanese reinforcements. The report that General Chiang Kai-Shek was on his way with reinforcements was taken from some quarters here to mean that his plan had been answered.

Reports that the Japanese reinforcements were likely to land at any moment was denied aboard their flagship, the Izumomo, in mid-afternoon. A spokesman said no additional troops were expected today.

Japanese aerial activity over Kiangwan and Chienlu, the latter the location of Chinese headquarters, slackened considerably today. Only a few airplanes were visible and they did little bombing. A large number of planes left the airfield early in the morning, however, and disappeared.

Hold Mother Of Dead Girl After Quiz

Stockbridge, where 19-year-old daughter, Richarda, died of poison Tuesday, was ordered held today by Dis. Atty. Edward Eich. There is no charge, authorities wishing to hold the mother only while further investigation of the girl's death is made, Eich said.

The order followed the verdict of a coroner's jury today. The jury returned an "open verdict," finding the girl died of poison but expressing no opinion as to whether her death was a suicide.

Mrs. Daugherty testified that she found her daughter dying in her bedroom after a visit by a man who lives near the Daugherty home. The mother and the man quarreled and the daughter overheard the argument, it was testified.

PRINCETON LAWYER WINS LIBEL ACTION

Jury Awards Philip Lehner $25,000 in Suit Against Berlin Journal

Waukegan.—(P)—A circuit court jury today awarded $25,000 to Philip Lehner, Princeton attorney, in libel actions which he had brought against the Berlin, Wis. Journal and its publishers.

There were two actions, one based on a story published March 6, 1930, and the other printed April 9, 1931, during a heated political campaign.

The jury found both stories to have been libelous. In the first action, it awarded Lehner $8,000 compensatory damages. The second, it gave compensatory damages of $7,000 and assessed punitive damages of $10,000. In both stories the jury found evidence of malice.

The story for which the jury assessed punitive damages concerned a divorce case in which Lehner was an attorney. He charged that the newspaper's account reflected unfavorably on his character. At the time he was a candidate for circuit judge.

The attorney charged the newspaper made a special effort to circulate the second story widely. The Journal contended that special circulation was given that particular edition because another story described an educational tour.

Arthur Bostwick is editor of the Journal and J. W. Carroll, now of Chicago, was general manager.

WIDOW OF ENVOY DIES New York.—(P)—Mrs. Jane Waghman Penfield, widow of Frederick Cortland Penfield, who was American ambassador to Austria-Hungary from 1913 until the United States entered the war died last night at her Fifth-ave apartment. It was announced today.

Mrs. Frank Schrimpf and children, 312 E. McKinley, returned Monday evening from Milwaukee where they spent the weekend with Mrs. Schrimpf's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Brill, Sr.

The ancient common law held that a child must be heard to cry to attain the status of a living person.

Into the mist, but there was no sign as to where they were going or what they were doing, unless it was this group that bombed Hongchow.

Chinese military authorities strictly forbade newspapermen to visit the headquarters at Chienlu today or to enter the Chinese lines. They said the order was likely to be maintained for several days.

FARMERS WOULD DUMP MILK TO BOOST PRICE

400 Calumet-co. Milk Producers Organize Wisconsin Dairy Union

CONTINUED FROM PAGE 1 "Dump," that meant that all would throw away their milk. They would not even feed this surplus to the pigs, Mr. Loehr said.

The union treasury would be built up by the members. Not only dairy farmers but business men, bankers and others would be eligible to membership in the union, because all are affected by the condition of the farmer and therefore they are all interested in bettering the condition of the farmer, Mr. Loehr pointed out.

Predicts Price Increase "If all the farmers in the state would dump their milk for one week I predict that the price of cheese would immediately be boosted 10 cents," Loehr said. "All we need is organization. The barbers, through their organization, dictate the prices for shaves and haircuts, thus creating uniform prices throughout the state. The railroad men have an organization and when the employers want to cut their wages they first get the consent of the workman. So should it be with the farmer. It certainly should be up to him, at least in part, to determine what prices he will receive for his product. I predict we can control the prices by controlling the supply, but it will take the active cooperation of all the farmers in the state to do this."

Mr. Loehr cautioned the farmers that they must keep their organization's business out of politics. He said this was important. Following Mr. Loehr's talk, which was enthusiastically received, many of those present expressed themselves as willing to back the new organization to the limit. Among the speakers were John J. Madler, president of the Illinois State Bank; Frank Tsch, Chilton merchant; L. A. Wrench, Alois Thiel and A. Lohz, cheese makers; Theodor Schmidt, Theodore Hattner, Nick Bruell, and other prominent farmers.

Sixteen cheese factories were represented at the meeting. Others were present from Chilton, Hilbert, Forest Junction, Dundas, Sherwood, Harrison, Stockbridge and Brant.

Organization of the statewide group will be completed by May 1, under Mr. Loehr's present plans. He has notified patrons of cheese factories and creameries throughout the state of his plan, and he now is planning an intensive drive to enlist other farmers and business men in the movement. Mr. Loehr, who was made temporary head of the organization, was authorized to have the necessary by-laws and organization papers drawn up for the next meeting. Matthew Koess was named temporary secretary and a county delegate. Matthew Schmidt also was named as a county delegate.

After other local units are organized in Calumet-co it is planned to hold a county convention. As soon as other counties are organized, they will hold county conventions and then plans will be made for a statewide meeting at which the action of all the counties will be coordinated.

WOULD ASSESS RELATIVES OF STATE'S WARDS

Hannan Thinks Over $100,000 Could Be Saved Annually Under System

CONTINUED FROM PAGE 1 prisoners being looked after by each probation officer has increased from 62 to 84, or more than double the ideal load, he said.

Hannan stated that proper supervision of these paroled wards requires one dollar a week for each of them, whereas it will cost $4 a week, through lack of proper supervision, they go astray and are returned to prison.

The savings of the board of control increases to around $150,000, the amount of economies reported to the emergency board by all state departments, excluding the state university, which has a budget of more than $8,000,000.

Further Cut Required

The university will be heard next Wednesday. Governor LaFollette, a member of the emergency board, said yesterday that when the hearings are concluded, some further cutting will have to be done to balance the budget if a state property tax is to be prevented next fall.

Payroll cuts for the university and the state normal schools are believed to be a certainty as things now stand.

When the university representatives make their reports the emergency board will be studied over $38,000,000 in appropriations and out of that sum it is likely that nearly $2,000,000 will have been saved voluntarily by the departments entitled to spend the money.

The board has not revealed how much more will have to be cut. If the full 20 per cent cut allowed by the special session of the legislature is applied an additional $3,000,000 would be required.

Governor LaFollette said he prefers to consult his executive council before making a definite decision. This probably will be done. Assemblyman C. A. Beggs, Rice Lake, a member of the executive council, and Senator Otto Mueller, Wausau, are the other members of the emergency board.

Uniformly by the departments entitled to spend the money. The board has not revealed how much more will have to be cut. If the full 20 per cent cut allowed by the special session of the legislature is applied an additional $3,000,000 would be required.

Governor LaFollette said he prefers to consult his executive council before making a definite decision. This probably will be done. Assemblyman C. A. Beggs, Rice Lake, a member of the executive council, and Senator Otto Mueller, Wausau, are the other members of the emergency board.

WOULD DETERMINE STATUS OF U.S. WAR PARTICIPANTS

Inquiry Results from Death of Airman, Shot Down While Flying Chinese Plane

Washington — (AP)—State and war department legal authorities Thursday were examining federal statutes to determine the status of American citizens participating in military activities either on the Japanese or Chinese side.

Their action was the outgrowth of the death of Robert M. Short, of Lakeview, Washington, a reserve corps officer killed when the Japanese shot down a Chinese airplane at Shanghai.

Under reserve corps regulations of the army, the entry of a reserve officer into the military service of a foreign country is grounds for "immediate discharge." Army regulations also provide that a reserve officer leaving for a foreign country for any purpose must report his intention to the adjutant general.

The adjutant general's office said today they had no notification in their records of Short's departure when it was made.

A federal statute passed by congress in 1909 provides for three years imprisonment or a fine of $1,000 for whoever enlists within the jurisdiction of the United States in the military service of any foreign power. State department officials said today that extraterritorial rights of the United States in China would constitute "American jurisdiction" and would subject any American who enlisted in the service of either Japan or China to the penalties of the statute.

Another statute, which would not be applicable until China and Japan were at a formal state of war, provides a fine of $2,000 and three years imprisonment for enlistment in a service opposing a nation with which the United States is at peace.

Aside from specific prohibitions of the law, legal authorities generally agreed today that Americans enlisting for service with the Japanese or Chinese would automatically forfeit their rights to protection by American authorities abroad.

The third Arkansas woman in the tradition is Miss Hattie Caraway, first woman elected to the senate who is serving out the term of her late husband, Senator T. H. Caraway.

Earl Hayman Knows His Horse Flies, Mosquitoes

BY JESSIE HENDERSON
(Copyright, 1932, by Cons. Press)
Hollywood, Cal. — (CPA) — Listen zzzz-zzzzz! "It's a dragon fly," says Earl Hayman.

Maybe it's a horse fly, you suggest. "No," Hayman replies, listening intently, a horse fly would go buzz-zzzzz."

It turns out to be a dragon fly, just as he said.

Earl Hayman, sound expert at the Paramount studios, can identify by the sound a dozen or more forms of bird and insect. He can tell without looking, by the buzz or the flapping of their wings, what they are and whether they're mad or happy.

"It's partly a study of these critters," Hayman explained today, "and partly the necessity of reproducing their voices and wing noises for the talkies. I've disguised myself as a clover blossom many a time and lain on my stomach in a field to listen to the difference between a humming bird and a mosquito. There's quite a difference, too. The humming bird gives you no help whatever, being a shy individual, but the mosquito gives till it hurts."

If you'll look like a great, big rose for a minute I'll hum like a humming bird for you."

Changes Tone

He hummed like a humming bird and then changed the note to that of such a realistic mosquito you couldn't help swatting at it. Hayman's business, however, is not that of imitator. It is the business of cataloguing bird and insect sounds and reproducing them for the sound track at the proper moments. Among the effects in the film on which he is now at work, "The Broken Wing," are those of the flying and voice of a whippoorwill and a mosquito, plus the noise of an airplane motor.

By dint of much study and of tinkering with the sound track Hayman can distinguish almost any flying creature and get both its note and wing beat into the film. He can, for example, differentiate among flies—both horse and house—mosquitoes, humming birds, dragon flies, wild ducks, buzzards and swallows. The most difficult insect sound to reproduce for talkies is the chirp-r-r of the grasshopper because

ZUELKE BUILDING LAUDED IN STORY

Article Appears in "Through the Ages," Monthly Publication

Under the caption, "An Indication of Confidence Comes from the Midwest," a description of the new Irving Zuelke building appears in the February issue of "Through the Ages," monthly publication of the National Association of Marble Dealers. The seven page article is illustrated with pictures of the exterior of the building, the lobby, sections of the marble used on the third floor, and several shops.

The magazine pays tribute to Mr. Zuelke's enterprise "Speaking of heroes, Elizabeth Barrett Browning said, 'All actual heroes are essential men, and all men possible heroes.' And so, while discussing the hero

Containing more space than the best of the city, it is a masterpiece of architecture and is a credit to the community for its construction.

The building's comments of Mayor John Goodrich and excerpts from the Appleton Post-Crescent special section describing the building were reprinted at great length, and the main story in the building is minutely detailed.

MR. ROOSEVELT GROWS

As though the fates were trying to twist Governor Roosevelt's political future and embitter politicians of his own state against him, there came to his desk a few days ago the necessity of deciding whether one Farley, huge in physique and with a glowing red face across which played a perpetual Celtic smile, should be removed from the office of sheriff, important to Tammany at New York City and only given into the keeping of some man like Farley who stands high in the councils and power of the greatest social-political organization in the country.

Against Farley there was but one piece of evidence. It was his bank book. He had deposited large sums of money, far beyond the income of his office plus the income of the property he owned, but the Seabury investigating committee could not trace a cent of that money to a corrupt source, simply because it could not be traced at all.

When the committee said to Farley, "Where did you get it?", he answered that he got it from a tin box, that although he always kept a bank account he was in the habit of keeping great sums of money in a safety deposit box which he had finally deposited from time to time in ten thousand dollar rolls in his bank account.

Brushing aside Farley's thin explanation as "unsatisfactory" Governor Roosevelt summarily removed him from office, announcing a new and a very necessary principle, by which to judge public officers, in the following language:

"As a matter of general sound public policy, I am very certain that there is a requirement that when a public official is under inquiry, especially an elected public official, and it appears that the total of his bank deposits far exceeds the salary or other income which he is known to receive, he owes a positive public duty to the community to give a reasonable or credible explanation of the source of his deposits."

That sort of a decision is enervating to an organization like Tammany. If it must explain its income it is ruined. It will have nothing but disdain for a governor who enforces such a rule. It may not state so openly but it will fight him desperately, personally, viciously, any way, in order to defeat, humiliate or prevent his promotion in life.

In these seemingly uncertain days of official and other dishonesty, Governor Roosevelt's blunt and granite character operating against the forces of ruin and corruption will be a decisive factor swaying a people back to a sublime faith in their own created institutions.

We may temporarily pass over the great value of our constitutions and laws—Mexico and Portugal have such things too—for after they are adopted their value must depend on the character of the men into whose hands the people trust, with a silent prayer, their enforcement.

Mr. Roosevelt grows.

THE CAPITAL CITY BANK AGAIN

If it is permissible to refer to the deposit of public funds in the Capital City Bank without courting an assault, reference may be made to the position taken by the surety companies which provided the bond protecting state funds, as disclosed by their correspondence recently made public.

The conclusion, while uncertain because all facts are never available until after a hearing, points to the safety of the state's money although that does not necessarily mean that the loss will be borne by the surety companies.

Our attention has been called to the fact that some twenty years ago the supreme court of Wisconsin held that a surety company was not released from liability merely because the state treasurer deposited funds in excess of the amount permitted by law or the rules of the board of deposits. Investigation has verified the actuality of such decision. So much for that angle of the case.

But the surety companies claim additional things, one of which, that when deposits were made by Mr. Levitan he knew or had good reason to know, that the Capital City Bank was actually insolvent, broke.

And still it would not seem that even such knowledge would result in the loss of public funds to the state. The most that probably could be claimed from that situation would be a personal liability of Mr. Levitan to the surety companies.

The most serious claim arises from the assertion by the surety companies that when an insolvent bank, fully aware of its insolvency, accepts deposits, the money so deposited will be held in law to be a trust fund, which means that the claim of the state for its moneys becomes a preferred claim to be paid first out of the assets of the bank now in receivership.

If this position can succeed the state will lose no money, the surety companies will lose no money, but the loss will fall entirely upon the depositors in the bank who must submit to seeing this claim paid prior to the division of the assets among them.

The fortunes of this litigation will be followed by the people with interest but the outcome, whatever it is, can never excuse the violation by public officials of laws made for the safety of public funds nor the influencing of such public officials by those who wield political power, although without authority from the people.

FEDERAL ECONOMY NEEDED

The proposed reorganization of federal government departments in the interests of economy and efficiency, now under debate in Congress, is not a new thing. It goes all the way back to the Taft administration, when a commission was set up to survey the field and see just where consolidations could enable Uncle Sam to conduct his business with less loss motion.

Thus the project has been up for consideration for more than 20 years; and by this time it ought to be fairly apparent to the politicians at Washington just what should be done. Some sort of drastic reorganization is greatly needed. Uncle Sam could very easily slash his payroll and get his work done much better than it is being done now. Congress will be doing the country a bad turn if it fails to take some definite action.

HENRY COUNTY FARMS

Only ninety-three of the more than 2,300 farms in Henry county failed to pay their taxes last year. That fact is attested by the delinquent list published in the Courier-Times on Monday of this week. Of the ninety-three farms advertised it is safe to say that a third or a half will be wiped off the list before the day of sale so that the number will be reduced to fifty, or about 2 per cent of the total number of farms. We speak of farms containing twenty acres or more where the owner makes his entire living, and not just a home to live in the country and work some place else.

When 96 or 98 per cent of the farmers can still pay taxes, then conditions are not so bad as one might believe, nor are farmers so near bankruptcy. Business is not good. It is a long way from it, but so long as 98 per cent of the farmers can pay their taxes, high as they are, then we have a long way to go before complete ruination stares us in the face.

Most of us had thought that the extremely low prices for farm products, the inability to borrow on farms and the fact that there is no sale for them, would cause an enormous delinquency. We have heard it placed as high as 25 per cent. Naturally it was agreeable information to know that it was only 2 or 3 per cent, or about 1 per cent more than usual. This is cheering news especially when news of that kind has been so scarce.—Newcastle Courier-Times.

OLD AND YOUNG

Time was that she romped in the hey-day of youth
And mocked at all preachings of wisdom and truth.
Time was that she danced till the dawn of the day
When her world was all lovely and life was all play.
But now there are children who cling to her knee,
And plainly the dangers of life she can see.
A new dream of splendor is lighting her eyes,
The lips which once laughed are now tenderly wise.
Her voice is forever reminding: "Beware!"
Her last words at parting are always: "Take care!"
That mother devoted has temples which burn
With terror till safely the youngsters return.
O playmates of mine in the days which are fled
How lightly we laughed at the warnings they said,
How we chuckled to hear them advise what to do
And tossed back our heads at that parting: "Take care!"
But here we are silvered, old-fashioned and staid,
All mothers and fathers of young life afraid.

Looking Backward

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO

Friday, March 1, 1907

It was understood that the water company was to have preliminary papers served on the city of Appleton calling upon the city officials to show cause why they should not be restrained from issuing bonds for the purpose of raising money for the construction of a new water works system in Appleton.

J. Arthur and Irwin S. Jansen, 938 Appleton-st., were to assume the ownership and management of the M. A. Lang wholesale cracker and candy business, 697 Washington-st.

P. J. Vaughn had moved from 362 Cherry-st to 785 Franklin-st.

Mrs. Karl Schwarz, Oshkosh, and Miss Jessie Sherman, Milwaukee, were guests the previous day at the home of Miss Ida Hilbert.

Mrs. Hester Markham, Washington-st., entertained the previous evening in honor of her birthday anniversary.

W. P. Rooney, for three years janitor at St. Mary church and school, had resigned and was to be succeeded by Cornelius Murphy.

Mrs. Henry Hegner was hostess the preceding afternoon and evening at a party in honor of the Thimble club of Menasha.

TEN YEARS AGO

Friday, Feb. 24, 1922

Valiant battles by public service companies to restore communication and train service between Appleton and the rest of the world were meeting with success that day. It then appeared a question of another 24 hours when trains would be moving and partial wire service would be in operation.

Mrs. Robert Schmege was surprised the previous evening in honor of her birthday anniversary.

Only 12 members of the county board reported at the courthouse that morning. The board lacked nine members of quorum and was unable to proceed with business.

A son was born Feb. 16 to Mr. and Mrs. Frank Abendroth, 315 Llorado-st.

Walter T. Hughes and August Brandt, Appleton and F. P. Forkin, Green Bay walked from Oshkosh to Neenah the previous day rather than be marooned in the former city.

Personal Health Talks

BY WILLIAM BRADY, M. D.
Noted Physician and Author

As a young doctor I was painfully conscious of a grave deficiency in my professional training. No one had thought it necessary to teach me anything about the thousand and one little problems a practicing physician must deal with aside from his art. From my present semi-detached point of view it looks as tho the young doctors and the young nurses of the day could do with a short practical course of lectures or lessons on the ways of the world.

I believe such instruction would prevent many a faux pas. Front page item recently described the reviving of a dead man. The man had been very ill and his death was expected. At length he ceased breathing, and the nurse informed his relatives he was dead. They sent messages to various distant connections, notified the undertaker, etc., and half an hour later the dead man resumed breathing where he had temporarily left off. When the attending physician arrived he explained that the patient had what doctors call Cheyne-Stokes breathing, a peculiar irregularity of breathing occurring in various grave illnesses, the breaths coming deeper and faster for a time till the breathing is quite violent, then a period of slower and more shallow breaths till it seems the patient doesn't breathe at all for several seconds. It was in one of these intervals that the nurse decided the patient was dead. That was quite a mistake. Even if she was quite certain the patient was dead the nurse should not have ventured to say so. Her full duty was done when she observed that the patient had ceased breathing. That was all she should have reported to the doctor, or to the family if the doctor was not within call. The well trained nurse always leaves upon the doctor's shoulders the responsibility of diagnosing death—or anything else.

A young doctor recently received a patient I had referred to him. The patient, strangely enough, had enough confidence in me to believe what I had told her in this column, to wit, that a course of insulin injections will help many undernourished persons put on much needed flesh and it doesn't matter whether such a patient has diabetes or not. Well, listen to the patient's report of the rebuff the semi-educated doctor gave:

"The doctor," the young enough, must be somewhat behind medical progress, for when I asked him about this treatment for 'holy frights' he seemed to think I was crazy. He explained that insulin is given to diabetic patients only."

When the doctor calmly assured the young woman that insulin treatment is given only to persons with diabetes he betrayed his ineptitude. If he will take an afternoon off and pay a visit to the Academy of Medicine library or even unwrap a few copies of his own official medical journal, if he subscribes to one, he will learn something to the advantage of his undernourished patients and his own success in practice.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Bar for Child With Curvature

If the mother of the child with spinal curvature will arrange a bar on which the child can hang and swing herself free from the floor, the weight of her body suspended by the arms will straighten her spine and help develop the muscles. This was recommended to me by a physician. (W. F. D.)

Answer—On rig up a trapeze, with a mattress for the child to fall on while learning to do simple stunts.

Scars
Is there any cure known that will remove the scars of scarlet fever? (H. E.)

Answer—No remedy or medicine will remove scars from whatever cause. Only surgery, in responsible hands, can deal with a scar or scars.

Iodine Ration Without Stain
Is there some kind of an iodine tablet I could take for an iodine ration I find it difficult to take a drop of tincture once a week without staining tissues. (Miss M. S. M.)

Answer—Yes, there are such tablets, but I do not recommend them.

No reason why anybody should not keep a vial of tincture of iodine, with glass stopper, in the medicine cabinet, and simply shake up the vial to wet the stopper, and then rinse the stopper in the glass of water. That gives you your ration without any fuss or muss.

That Austrian Legend
In view of the inclosed statement do you still refuse to believe anything is absorbed by the skin? (S. G. J.)

Answer—The inclosed statement is, I estimate, the seventeen hundredth clipping I have seen, of the newspaper item telling of the discovery of a mysterious food substance which the charlatan says customers can rub in thru the skin. It would be great sport to put a seal on the discoverer's mouth and give him a large supply of the food to live on, per dermum.

The Tynmites

By Hal Cochran

NO sooner had the big bug closed than Scouty said, "I just supposed that we would have a trick pulled off. We're locked in good and tight. I wonder what it's all about and will the builder let us out. My goodness, but it's dark in here. I wish we had a light."

The bug began to move along and Scouty shouted, "Now what's wrong? We're moving slow, but sure. Oh, my! Where are we bound for now? I'd like to tell that builder he is just as fresh as he can be. 'Tis sure I'd start a row."

"Aw, you'd do nothing of the sort. A row is never any sport. Perhaps this trip will turn out fine," said Windy, full of hope. "The bug's begun to move real fast. Say, how long is this going to last?" Just then the bug tipped up a bit. They knew they'd reached a slope.

"Down, down we go," cried Scouty. "Gee, let's try and find some way to see out of this caterpillar. There must be a door or two. Now everybody feel around and we will find what can be found. I, this won't lead to anything, there's nothing else to do."

They all were quiet for a spell. The others then heard Copsy yell, "I've found a latch that's hooked up tight. Let's try and push it out." Then Scouty shouted, "Gee, that's grand. I'll very gladly lend a hand if we can get it loose 'twill let us out of there, no doubt."

"Hurrahy!" he very shortly cried. And then a top door opened wide. The Tynmites stuck their heads out and saw trees and things whiz past. "My, my, how this big bug can run. We can't jump out of here," cried one. "We'd only crash upon the ground. We're traveling too fast."

FAVORS CHARITY HERE

Editor Post-Crescent: In the People's Forum of Saturday, Mr. Peabody had an article asking everyone to listen to Mrs. Charles Lindbergh's speech on conditions in China and practically requested people to donate money for the Chinese.

It may be all right to listen to the speech but I believe charity should begin at home. If there is anything left over, then send it to China afterwards. If such people as Mr. Peabody are so interested in China's affairs, why don't they take their money and move over to China? I believe they could be more useful over there these days.

I suppose he doesn't know that in this country there are people that are pretty hard up. I've "hoboed" some in the last two years, not much but enough to know pretty well what the conditions are for the homeless and unemployed in this country. Conditions are really unbelievable in Chicago and in all other big cities. If Mr. Peabody will go to Chicago some time this summer and take a stroll up west Madison-st about 10 blocks from the Northwestern station and watch in the side streets he'll find something that will open his eyes.

There is one place where money will be appreciated as much as in China. I know, because I've associated with these people. If he has money to give, why not give it in his home town or at least in his own country. The missions could use it pretty well.

Seen And Heard In New York

New York —Just imagine, girls, how Ramon Navarro would look with a bald head!

Well, a picture of him that way, published in a Warsaw, Poland, journal, was such a sight that it threw the foreign department of the idol's movie company into turmoil and nearly caused an international situation.

There was no one around the office who could read Polish, but after the company's cable bill had been swelled by indignant inquiries somebody discovered the publication date.

It was April 1, last. The old issue was that of finding its way into the local film men's hands.

That relieved the tension, and then came the explanation that appeared everybody's wrath. The April Fools' edition had plenty of burlesque and satire in it, and the faked picture of a hairless Navarro was only a bit of funning.

It's trifling incidents like that that help make the movie business exciting—and leave it open to a lot of kidding.

A fractured vertebra was responsible for Horace Heidt becoming an orchestra leader. If it hadn't been for that, he might have been a prize fighter, who knows?

The accident that decided Heidt's career occurred in a football game, when he played with the University of California. Prior to this he had made enough of an impression as a pitcher to be scouted by the White Sox, and had gained renown as an amateur boxer.

But he had to fall back on his musical talent to pay off doctor's bills, so he just kept on letting it pay his way.

When Jim Corbett, the actor, hears about Schmelling and Sharkey commencing their fighting desires to each other through a hookup of managerial mouthpieces, the pugilists scarce deigning to exchange glances without monetary returns—it must afford him a chuckle.

AMERICAN POLICY AND THE LEAGUE ASSEMBLY

Geneva, Feb. 25. When the Assembly of the League of Nations meets next week it will be highly interesting to see how the United States will stand in respect to the ultimate settlement of the dispute between the United States and Japan. There will be many nations represented in the Assembly who will wish to have the League vindicate itself as an agency for enforcing peace, and the United States must beware of letting itself be maneuvered into a position where it will be forced to support the United States League without having intervened firmly and successfully. The temptation to lay the blame for the disappointment on the United States will be tremendous. On the other hand, there is danger also that the Assembly will be swept by a demand for some sort of action—short of war, but on the road to war—like the withdrawal of ambassadors from Tokyo, which would cost no nation except Britain, France and the United States anything. In that case there is danger either that we might join in a move which is a first step in a direction we should not wish to go, or that we should find ourselves morally isolated and in opposition to the opinion of the civilized world.

It is therefore of the utmost importance that the principles of the American policy should be made quite clear at Geneva. What is to be made clear particularly is that in the whole Sino-Japanese affair the United States has not left itself committed to nor has it sought to pursue a policy of enforcing peace. This is not clearly understood at Geneva. Although as a matter of fact the League has done no more than attempt remediation now and, following the American leadership, has declared against recognizing as legal the results of Japan's aggression, the notion persists in Geneva that the League ought in fact to be used with force to deal with the Japanese. This notion, combined with the fact the League has no force is the reason why the League's action has been vacillating and confused.

The nations represented on the Council undoubtedly realize by this time that the situation is one in which threats of force are empty and therefore dangerous. They realize it because they are as little willing as the United States to take the risk of enlarging the Sino-Japanese war into a general war. But the nations of the Assembly may not realize it. They have a strong interest in proving that the League is really a league to enforce peace. It is therefore desirable that it should be made quite plain to them why the United States would not associate itself with a movement to apply force against Japan.

There is much to be said in favor of the conception of a league to enforce peace. It is likely that in no other way could an action like Japan's have been prevented. But if a league to enforce peace is to work it must exist before hostilities begin; it must be known to exist and must be believed to be effective. At this stage it would be sheer folly, it would be unutterably tragic, to improve a league to enforce peace and take measures which might lead to war with Japan. For Japan is now deeply involved in China that the threat of force would no longer be effective; at this point it would be necessary to use force—that is, to go to war. The military caste in Japan has by this time staked its existence upon the Chinese adventure, and it is as certain as anything can be that it would rather go down to defeat by dragging in the world than go down to defeat by surrendering to threats from Geneva, London and Washington.

MURRAY SAYS OTHERS IN NEED OF PLATFORMS

Indianapolis —(P)—With the declaration that other candidates and prospective candidates for the Democratic presidential nomination have not announced "anything they stand for except repeal of a constitutional amendment," Gov. William H. Murray of Oklahoma closed a three-day campaign in Indiana last night. He told a crowd of 8,000 persons here that the Democrats will have to nominate a man "with a better platform than President Hoover" or be defeated at the polls next November.

The Oklahoman showed no ill effect from an automobile accident in which he was shaken up near Alexandria, Ind., last night while enroute from Fort Wayne for his address here.

RENO DIVORCE ASKED BY MRS. WAITE HOYT

New York —(P)—A Reno divorce is being sought by Mrs. Waite Hoyt, wife of the baseball pitcher, her father H. T. Fyfe, said today. The couple have been separated a year, Fyfe said. Hoyt, whose golden days in the pitcher's box were served with the New York Yankees, is now in the south seeking a baseball connection for the coming season. He and the former Dorothy Fyfe were sweethearts as students at high school.

BEWARE OF PERFECT CHILD, ROBERTS SAYS

Milwaukee—Beware of the child who is a "perfect little gentleman." He is as serious a behavior problem as the child who is a "perfect little dickens," Dr. D. W. Roberts said in an address to the Milwaukee Woman's club. Nature didn't intend children to be perfect ladies and gentlemen, he said, because they are not miniature adults, Dr. Roberts said. "Parents should realize that they do not own children as they own automobiles," Dr. Roberts said. "They merely exercise a guardianship, and the type of guardianship exerted during the first four years of life will determine whether a child will become a delinquent or suffer a breakdown later."

TWO BADGER OFFICERS SELECTED FOR SCHOOL

(Post-Crescent Washington Bureau) Washington —Two Wisconsin army officers have been selected by the War Department to attend the Command and General Staff School at Fort Leavenworth, Kas., for the 1932-34 course beginning in September. Capt. Harry H. Baird of Neenah and Capt. Gustave B. Guenther of Chilton, both in the cavalry and both now stationed at Fort Riley, Kans. were designated for the honor.

They will report at Fort Leavenworth between Aug. 20 and Aug. 23.

RACES OPEN TO WOMEN

Cleveland — This year's National Air races will see for the first time closed course races open to women. Clifford W. Henderson, race managing director, has announced that women will be free to compete in closed course races which have heretofore been barred to them. This is a move toward recognition of the ability of women pilots.

CULBERTSON on CONTRACT

by Ely Culbertson

World's Champion Player and Greatest Card Analyst

SQUEEZE VERSUS CROSS RUFF

Expert players, familiar with all types of play about which volumes are written, such as coups, squeezes, eliminations and end plays, can bid unusual hands with confidence to a point not justified for the ordinary player. Mr. Waldemar von Zedtwitz, my roommate in many a hard fought Contract battle, requires no eulogy from me or anyone else to prove his right to be considered an expert player, but the hand below, played in a recent national tournament, gave him an opportunity to add a fresh sprig of laurel to his crown.

The Bidding:

South	West	North	East
10	10	10	20
Pass	Pass	Pass	Pass

I gave the bidding as it occurred without any comment.

The play was really the interesting feature of the hand. West opened the King of clubs and then shifted to a heart. He reasoned that it was essential to shorten the Dummy's trumps before the spade suit was established and another round of clubs might possibly establish a club trick for South. Dumny trumped and led a diamond and this disclosed the trump situation. Mr. von Zedtwitz now led a spade which East won with the Ace, the Queen being played from Dumny. East would have been better advised to lead a club, but decided to continue shortening Dumny's trumps, so led the Ace of hearts. He had placed the King of hearts in his partner's hand on the bidding. With the play thus far, Mr. von Zedtwitz could see no necessity of cross ruffing the hand. If the spades are divided evenly in the adverse hands he can take the balance of the tricks. If one of them holds a singleton, it must be East as West has shown a void in diamonds. In any case, for an expert there was no reason to take the chance of a spade being trumped, as a triple squeeze play was a certainty. West's Opening lead had shown the Ace of clubs in his hand and his bid indicated that he also held the Queen of hearts. If he has the two missing spades, he cannot hold them and protect clubs and hearts at the same time. After Mr. von Zedtwitz had played the Ace of trumps and three additional trumps, West was left with spades J 9, hearts Q 10, club A and last trump. West was forced to uncard one of the suits and the doubled contract of five was thus made.

CHANGED COFFEE-ROASTING FROM A GUESSING-GAME TO A SCIENCE

Controlled Roasting—Hills Bros' patented process—roasts small amounts, continuously, under automatic control

Exact roast assured for every punod... delightful flavor never changes

No can of Hills Bros. Coffee will ever "go stale." The vacuum can keeps it FRESH ALWAYS!

Hills Bros. developed a new way to roast coffee, because in ordinary, bulk-roasting methods the roast is governed by a man's guess. One batch may be underdone; another overdone. Flavor-variations result.

Hills Bros.' patented Controlled Roasting process always makes a perfect roast! Instead of big batches, Hills Bros. roast a little at a time... without guesswork! Small quantities of coffee pass evenly, continuously through the roasters. The speed of flow and heat are automatically controlled.

Every pound is done to the degree that develops the most enjoyable flavor that Nature puts in coffee-berries. And the flavor never varies!

Hills Bros. Coffee is vacuum-packed, and can't go stale. The vacuum process of packing coffee is the only method that fully preserves coffee freshness—the air is removed from the can and kept out. It was originated by Hills Bros. over thirty years ago. There is no magic about a vacuum can—it will not make poor coffee good, but it will keep good coffee fresh.

Remove the top from a Hills Bros. vacuum can. Breathe that wonderful coffee-aroma. Then make a cupful, and prove to yourself that you get all the flavor the aroma promised. Order Hills Bros. Coffee today. Ask for it by name, and look for the Arab trade-mark on the can.

Try To Help Child Value Old Things

BY ANGELO PATRI

"Be careful of that old cup and saucer, Jean, they belonged to your great grandmother's wedding set."

"Is this all you have of them, mother? She must have had a lot more. Where are they? Did they get broken?"

"Each grandchild got a few pieces when she died and when our mother died each child got a piece. That's my one piece, so take care."

"Goodness, one cup and saucer isn't much good. What good is it?"

"Don't get out of patience when a child talks that way about your old things. A child does not live in the past. He lives in the present minute. He has to be much older before he glances at the future and it is long after that before he turns to his past and finds rest and peace in it."

A child sees with other eyes than yours. To him the old book is just an old wreck, the old table something that you cling to for no reason that he can see. Isn't there plenty of nice shiny tables in the shop? He does not see with his memories and you do.

When you look at the old things you do not see them. You look beyond them to the people and the places they used to grace. You see things. You cannot expect children to see that. Just be patient and smile when they scorn your treasures. Keep teaching them to cherish them. The old things are family ties and the stouter those ties can be made the better. Each of them will, in the days to come, bring warmth and companionship and comfort to this eager child.

Teach the children to keep some of their best things for their own children. Don't hesitate to tell the little girl that it would be nice if she were to keep this beautiful doll for her own child to play with some day. If you have an old doll for her to use on high and holy days this creed will have something to recommend it.

Children who have a cabinet in which choice toys and books can be stored to become heirlooms, have something that will create a background of home and family. That is something worth having. Every human being needs to have ties in life, needs the moral and physical support they give. There is certain strength and poise that comes from the knowledge of home and family in the background that we can ill afford to lose.

Cherish the few old things that have meaning for the family. Teach the children to lay aside a few of their own choice bits for the children to come. The tea set preserved from childhood becomes a delightful after dinner service when the little girl has a house of her own. The sturdy pled that the important question was "whether we will divide the work up among wage earners or deliberately crystallize a permanent army of unemployed."

Not only Grates the Linocum Quickly but it Makes it Brighter.

Old age pensions continued to advance as Delaware, Idaho, New Hampshire New Jersey and West Virginia adopted such laws, making 17 states in all.

Speakers attacked the "hypocritical shouting of the word 'dole'" to obscure the need for protecting workers against sudden loss of jobs. The A. A. L. L. a year ago began promoting what it called "an American plan for unemployment reserve funds" and Secretary John B. Andrews reported that there had been "marked progress" in American public opinion on such legislation. The association proposes to place directly on industry responsibility of making systematic advance provision for the involuntarily unemployed workers, asserting that the plan would tend to sustain purchasing power and create a permanent economic incentive to employment stabilization.

Professor T. N. Carver of Harvard was the student who pointed out what he called errors in the theory that shorter working time was an unemployment remedy. He argued that while it would give employment to some men it would give part-time employment for all. He scouted the commonly accepted idea that increased leisure stimulated demand for goods, pointing out that if the demand were to be effective it would have to be accompanied by increased purchasing power and that greater leisure might be employed by its possessors without any increase of expenses—such as in hiking, games and visiting libraries or museums. If wages under reduced working time remained the same, Carver said, production costs would rise and consumption would decrease. If wages were reduced with shortened hours the same effect would be felt. To which John P. Frey of the American Federation of Labor re-

85 Women At Meeting Of Council

REPRESENTATIVES of four units and guests from Green Bay and DePere were present at the meeting of Outagamie County Council of the American Legion Auxiliary Thursday evening at Hotel Kaukauna, Kaukauna. About 85 women attended. A 6:30 dinner preceded the meeting, and children of Kaukauna members put on a program of songs, recitations, and dance numbers. A quartet from Kaukauna sang.

Mrs. Lola Knauth, Kiel, state president of the Auxiliary, and Mrs. Lydia Hackbarth, Marinette, president of the ninth district, gave talks.

It was decided to hold only five meetings a year, the time and place of subsequent gatherings to be decided at each meeting. Tentative plans were made for a joint picnic with the county Legion sometime in the summer.

The committee on constitution and by-laws reported, and voting will take place at the next meeting. The committee includes Mrs. George Versteegen, Little Chute; Mrs. Alice Longrie, Seymour; Mrs. Martha Banning, Kaukauna; and Mrs. H. W. Miller, Appleton. The next meeting will probably be held at Little Chute, but no definite date has been set.

The purpose of the council is to promote friendship among the units and to discuss general problems in the county.

The Ocho club met Thursday night at the home of Mrs. Dora Radtke, N. Superior-st. Prizes at bridge were won by Mrs. Ruth Ebbesen and Miss Myrtle Mölberg. The club will meet in two weeks with Mrs. Harry Leith, 421 E. Brewster-st.

THE STORY OF SUE
By Margery Hale

FRED? Dr. Raynor repeated Ruth's word. "Certainly not. Why should I want to fire you?"

"For making the youngsters ill, I suppose," Ruth answered quickly. "As a member of the school nursing staff I should have known better. I did know better, really, but I let my sympathy get away with me."

The rest of the afternoon dragged slowly. Dr. Raynor was still in the building when the bell rang for dismissal. He came back to Ruth's room.

She dismissed her classes, watched the children, and then sat with her feet on the table and looked down the hall. She hoped that Dr. Raynor would follow them. She didn't want to be alone with him. He was afraid that he had kissed her. He was afraid that he hadn't been loyal to Sally. She could tell by his expression. She reflected that she had known him a long and so well that she was familiar with his varying moods. When the last child had gone, she turned around very slowly. The man was leaning against her desk.

"Ruth . . . " He spoke with an effort.

"Yes!" She let the word slip out very suddenly.

"About that . . . matter. You will forget it, won't you?"

"You mean the . . . kiss?" she asked. "I've forgotten it already. Thank you so much for helping me. I appreciate it ever so much."

She reflected that it was strange how she could be so calm and collected when inwardly she was so upset. So frightened. The nerves in her stomach felt twisted. She wondered if she looked as pale and scared as the children had looked when their pains had started. But she had to talk. Act as though nothing had happened. As though Joe Raynor meant no more to her than any other member of the medical staff.

She knew that she couldn't go on always, feeling so disturbed. Some day she would have to feel free and happy again.

"I'll take you home," the man suggested.

"No, thank you. I have some errands and besides I need exercise. Goodbye." She waited until his footsteps had died down the long corridor before she turned to the wardrobe where her hat and coat were. She had a new camel-hair coat, a heavy, wooly, soft tan one. She was looking at it when the door opened. Outside, snowdrifts blew against the windows. Life went on as usual. But that was the trouble, she mused. It shouldn't go on as usual. Not when she had this terrible, aching sense of futility and hopelessness. It wasn't fair that she should go through the snowy dusk, watching the play of the gold lamps on the whitening roads, when all the time her heart was slowly cracking.

It wasn't fair!

She wiped her eyes, powdered her nose, and started down the street. Half way down she came to a halt. Sally was coming toward her in the car. She stopped and motioned to Ruth to get in.

"Joe Raynor told me what a fool you had made of yourself this afternoon and asked me to pick you up," Sally began. "He can't figure you out. But I can. You are in love with him, too, aren't you? Don't bother about answering, I know it."

Next: Ruth denies Sally's accusation.

HOW CAN MOTHER HELP UNHAPPY MARRIED DAUGHTER?
—ANXIOUS EIGHTEEN-YEAR-OLD

Dear Virginia Vane: My daughter married a young man of whom I did not approve particularly although I was willing to make the best of things, after the marriage. His mother, however, was not willing to accept my daughter, whom she had opposed from the first. She has made things unbearable for the girl so that my child does not want to live with her mother-in-law. The husband is so bossed by his mother that he won't do anything to displease her. He insists on living with her, and taking orders from her and he expects his wife to do the same. As a result my girl has come back home to live with me. I am a fond mother but I do not think it right for her to live away from her husband. I want to see the two young people happy but nothing I can do.

MENASHA K. C. CAGERS BEAT FONDY, 35-18

Victory Breaks First Place Tie, Giving Menasha Undisputed Lead

Menasha—Scoring an easy 35 to 18 victory over the Fondy Lac Lac team, the Menasha Knights of Columbus cagers today took up a tie of long standing and took undisputed possession of first place in conference standings at Fondy Lac Thursday evening. Prior to Thursday's encounter, the Menasha and Fondy Lac squads were tied for first place, each credited with six wins and one loss.

Urban "Zeke" Remmel, former Lawrence college ace, led the Menasha offensive again Thursday evening, scoring 14 points, including seven baskets for a total of 24 points. Boyle, playing left forward for Fondy Lac, was the only serious threat for the opposition, piling up 11 of the 18 points on five field goals and one free toss.

Opening with a fast moving attack, the Menasha team piled up an 8 to 3 lead at the close of the first period and led 19 to 7 advantage at the half. Little scoring was done during the third quarter, Menasha adding five points to their total while three markers were chalked up by the defending quint.

Both squads opened up in the final stanza but the Menasha cagers continued to hold the advantage in both offensive and defensive play and piled up their 35 to 18 total before the final whistle was blown. In addition to Remmel's 14 points, Weyenberg, Menasha center, scored two baskets and four free throws, rather chalked up two field goals and one free throw, Mayer, two baskets; Benke, one basket; and Anderson, one basket. Greene and Klutz also saw action.

Mett and Waegner worked at center for Fondy Lac with Boyle and McKinley at forwards and Doolen and Flood at guards.

HACKSTOCK BOWLS 717 IN HENDY LOOP

Chalks Up Games of 290, 215 and 212 to Set Dizzy Pace

Menasha—William Hackstock, anchor man for the Rippl Grocers, topped 717 pins in three games to set a dizzy pace for Hendy Recreation city league bowlers on Hendy alleys Thursday evening. Hackstock's series, the second highest in city league play this year, was chalked up with single games of 290, 215, and 212 and a handicap of only one pin.

In spite of Hackstock's hitting, his team dropped two out of three games to the Pankratz Fuels. M. Vassenberg led the opposition with a 649 total on single games of 178, 205, and 266.

This Artco Inks and Hendy Recreation bowlers, two crack teams, clashed in one of the feature battles of the evening. The Inks, led by James Kryslak who tipped up 641 pins in three games, scored a 2,350 team total to win two out of three games. Michael Malout and W. Pierce, also of the Inks, were each credited with series counts of more than 600 pins.

PENTHOUSES ARE BEING BUILT ON SKYSCRAPER TOPS

New Yorkers Build "City in the Air" in Quest for Light and Air

New York—The city dweller's quest for light and air is changing the famous skyline of Manhattan. The tall buildings that are being reared, seemingly almost overnight, no longer terminate in handsome spires or ornamental turrets. They're being topped by penthouses. Architects and builders have discovered that lofty spaces which formerly have been wasted so far as human occupancy is concerned, actually are the choicest and most profitable sites.

Because of their comparative scarcity there probably are not more than a thousand well-fledged penthouses in the entire city—these homes in the clouds are now available only to the wealthy. But reduced prices and the almost daily addition of new buildings may assure even middle-class tenants a place in the sun.

Kenneth Franzheim, society architect and designer of many huge apartment structures in New York, believes that every tall building of the future will be topped by one or more residence or studios.

"I don't like to call them penthouses, though," he says. "The term really means a shed with a single slope attached to another building. 'Sky' homes or 'roof' houses would be more appropriate."

"There are several good reasons why these roof houses are coming into their own. Cleanliness, for instance, is a big factor in this or any other city. Research has shown that at a height of 10 stories there is only one-fourth the dust that is encountered at street level. Further decreases occur as you go higher."

"The other most harmful aspect of street-level living is the poisonous carbon monoxide 'gas belt' which eddies about, unseen, through the city. The normal gas belt extends about to second-story level, but sometimes it blows to a height of six or eight stories."

"Light and sunshine are other advantages that require no explanation. As for noise, there seems to be almost no advantage in height so long as there are surrounding tall buildings against which the street sounds can reverberate. But tenants of the roofs do escape the clamor of traffic when their houses are set well back from the edge."

Penthouses were not in general use until about eight years ago, Franzheim points out. Hotels and luxury apartment houses usually put servants' quarters in the odds and ends of space above elevator levels. The servants themselves may not have realized it, but they were the real residential aristocrats of that day.

Then somebody discovered how pleasant it was to live aloft and aloof from the city below—and the penthouse era was born.

WHO'S NEW IN CONGRESS

Plaintiff, N. J. — Percy H. Stewart is the first democrat in 40 years to represent the fifth New Jersey district.

He was named by special ballot to succeed the late Ernest R. Ackerman, republican winner in 1930 by a majority of 30,000 votes.

The mayoralty of Plainfield is the only other elective office in the state over 1-1/2 by Stewart, who has Percy H. Stewart served on numerous state commissions by gubernatorial appointment. He was a delegate to the national democratic convention in 1920, and alternate delegate-at-large to the 1928 Houston convention.

Stewart was graduated from Yale in 1890. Law is his profession. Despite his 64 years, he swims well and is a crack shot at the traps. His bald head is fringed with white hair, and a ruddy complexion accentuates a snowy mustache.

RULING IS ISSUED ON TRUCKING LINES

Local Routes Can't Be Linked to Expand Service Without Permission

Madison—(P)—The Public Service commission ruled today that trucking companies cannot link up their local motor transportation routes for the purpose of giving service over a larger through area without obtaining permission from the commission.

The ruling was made in a decision denying the application of the Snyder-Bock corporation for a permit to operate between Columbus, Watertown and Milwaukee in such a way as to furnish through service between Madison and Milwaukee.

The Snyder-Bock corporation is a new company formed by the Snyder Transit company of Watertown and Columbus. The Snyder Transit company has a permit to operate over the Beaver Dam-Watertown-Madison route, and the Bock company has a certificate for the Columbus-Watertown-Milwaukee route.

Up until today the commission had permitted transportation companies to link up two routes such as these without permission where the certificates were held in one ownership. It allowed the Snyder-Bock corporation to operate between Beaver Dam-Watertown and Madison but on the opposition of other motor companies and railroads it denied a permit to link this route up with the Columbus-Milwaukee route.

The commission said that denial of the application does not jeopardize the right of the company to apply for a certificate for the Columbus-Milwaukee route but pointed out that linking up of the two services is something which the commission must first determine to be in the public interest.

The commission said it found that the merging of routes had led to an undue expansion of through lines service.

NO LOVE FOR HER

London, Eng.—One of the most charming girls in England must not fail in love. No so, she would have to give up her career. She is Helen Wallenda, tight-rope walker. "When I began this work, my brothers told me that I must choose between love and wire-walking," she explained. "If you fail in love your nerves are in no condition to walk the wire, so I chose the wire!"

THE BIG DROUGHT

"It is true that it never rains here!"

"Rather. We have five-year-old frogs that have never learned to swim."—Pages Gaies, Yverdon.

In 12 hours, even if it means the end of 10,000 functionaries, and "Heads will roll."

Sing Galloway Song

"It chants marching ditties like: 'O, Herr Severeing, how nice the galloways are, 'O, Herr Hoersing, it's great behind the bars.'"

The first line refers to the Prussian minister of interior, the second to the reichsbanner leader.

"In soldiers in swastika uniforms and games wherein the winners 'smash the Marxists' (meaning everybody in Germany not fascist) and triumphantly enter the 'third reich' of Hitler, are pastimes devised for even the youngest children in fascist families.

And charges that all this is brutal, stupidity, lack of idealism and absurdity, mean little to men to whom the future seems to hold only a jobless nation with empty dinner pails.

TEACH NORDIC TENETS

The idealism of Hitler youth is moulded by four points of a program of 25 convicts by Hitler in 1919: (1) the will to defend; (2) racial conceptions; (3) admiration or great historical figures including dictators like Mussolini; (4) a "moral" revival.

The most radical Hitlerites would go so far as to substitute the Nordic saga, the "Edda," for the Bible; expel Jews and foreigners, inaugurate racial birth control and keep women in their lower floors.

Gardens, squash courts, fountains and pools are common sights along the skyline now. Tiled walks lead through arbors, shrubbery and small trees. Real grass grows on sky-high lawns, and flower beds are deep with rich earth imported at considerable cost from the country.

Rents are as high as the penthouses themselves. In business buildings, where roof-house tenants are obliged to leave the elevators and walk a flight or two, rentals are about the same as for the best office space below. But in apartment buildings, Franzheim declares, penthouses bring about 20 per cent more than lower apartments of comparable size.

Which means that you can get one of the more modest residences in the sky for a mere $5000 or $6000 a year!

SUPREME COURT TO PROBE LOW RATE BATTLE

Will Determine Whether Utilities Can Cut

BY GEORGE E. DOYING

Washington—(CPA)—The right of a public utility to fix rates as low as it pleases in engaging in a rate war with a competitor is about to be considered by the supreme court of the United States, which is expected soon to hear arguments in the famous Shelby (Mont.) gas controversy.

The Montana Public Service commission is appealing to the supreme court from a decision of a three-judge federal court holding that the Great Northern Utilities Co. need not comply with an order issued by the commission requiring the utility to establish rates for natural gas on a level with those charged by the Citizens Gas Co. in Shelby.

The case has been bitterly contested during the last three years before the Montana commission, in the state courts and finally in the federal district court. It began in 1928 when some of the residents of Shelby organized the Citizens Gas Co. and secured a franchise from the city to construct a natural gas system in competition with the Great Northern, which had been serving the city for about five years prior to that time.

Charge 50 Cents
The Great Northern was charging 50 cents per thousand cubic feet for gas and the new company, which in Montana was permitted to enter the utility field without securing permission from the state commission, established a rate of 35 cents. The older company thereupon filed a rate of 25 cents and sought the approval of the commission as required by the state law.

The commission after an investigation issued an order reducing the 25-cent rate, holding that it would not yield enough revenue to defray normal operating expenses, including an allowance for depreciation, and that the low rate would tend to imperil or impair the ability of the utility to render dependable adequate service. The company was ordered to make effective the 25-cent rate charged by the Citizens company, although it was admitted by the commission that even this rate would not afford a fair return upon the value of the utility's property.

The Montana commission claims the right to fix the precise rate to be charged by a public utility, while the Great Northern contends that the power of regulation is limited to the fixing of a reasonable rate or a rate which will furnish a fair return, and that a utility has the right to charge any rate not discriminatory within the limits of a reasonable rate.

Although this question, which generally has come up between private and municipal utilities, has been raised in different sections of the country, it has never before reached the highest court. The supreme court of Iowa a few years ago decided a similar situation in favor of the municipality, holding that a public utility operating under a franchise has no constitutional right of competition.

On the other hand, the Georgia Public Service commission a few months ago declared that "the law is well established that a public utility has the right to charge such rates in a given instance as may be necessary to meet competition." This ruling was made in a controversy between the Georgia Power Co. and a public electric plant constructed by Crisp-co, Georgia, to serve the city of Cordale and other communities.

MRS. MOODY REVEALS ABILITY AS ETCHER

New York — (AP) — Helen Willis Moody, women's tennis champion of the world, displayed her ability as an etcher for the first time today for the opening of an exhibit at the Grand Central Art galleries.

The works represent an enlargement of her professional artistic career, which heretofore has been confined to drawings.

"Behind her name," said Erwin S. Barrie, manager and director of the Grand Central galleries, "lies real talent. When she retires from tennis her drawings and her etchings will attract attention for their merit alone."

"Her sport etchings will be in demand, for they are authentic. She knows anatomy and she knows its form for every stroke she portrays." She is at work now on plates of "Tilden"—always the genius of tennis," she called him in a letter to Barrie—and Vines — "the greatest young one."

Garnering the Food for Hubby

One bill that Congress should approve is the bill of fare that Mrs. John N. Garner, wife of the Speaker of the House, prepares for her husband. Here you see her cooking a "representative" meal—chile con carne—at their office in the Capitol. Maybe it's a recipe for success. Anyhow, the political pot was boiling, too, when this picture was taken, and the formal announcement of Garner's candidacy for the presidential nomination had just given the nation food for thought.

It takes eight gallons of special oil to give each of the elephants at the London Zoo its annual "beauty bath."

England reports a great proportion of the crimes committed in that country are by youths between 17 and 25.

BADGER STATE HAS FEW DRUG ADDICTS

Wisconsin Held Up as Example to Others in United States

BY RUBY A. BLACK
(Post-Crescent Washington Bureau)

Washington—Wisconsin's effective narcotic laws have kept it so free of drug addicts that it is being held up as an example to other states.

H. J. Anslinger, Commissioner of Narcotics, told the House Appropriations Committee during hearings on the Treasury Department appropriation bill, "Wisconsin has such a very effective law that the drug addicts give it a wide berth, because there they must be placed in institutions. It is not voluntary, but is involuntary. Therefore, we do not find much of a problem in Wisconsin."

Chairman Joseph W. Bryns of the committee observed, "It might be well to call the attention of other States to what Wisconsin is doing." If all states cooperated with the Federal Bureau as do Wisconsin, Rhode Island, California, and Pennsylvania, there would be little difficulty in making narcotic control extremely effective, Anslinger testified. He said, "Our weakness in the United States, which I freely admit, is the lack of State enforcement.... We are woefully weak on State co-operation, and I am using every effort to bring the States into line with some uniform legislation."

We are unable to take care of certain vital problems under our constitutional power. Our power, of course, is limited to taxation, the regulation of interstate commerce, and the treaty-making power. I think the Federal function should be what we are doing now, and that the states should take care of their own local enforcement."

As for the Bureau's work in controlling legal importations of drugs for medical purposes, Anslinger testified that they had a statement of returns from all manufacturers and records of every purchase made by the registered class in the country, that is, the class entitled to dispense and prescribe drugs. The Bureau's system of records is such that the cheater is shown up almost automatically by his excessive purchases, he said. Doctors, druggists and drug manufacturers are cooperating not only in the letter, but the spirit of the law, he told the committee.

BYRD TO SEARCH FOR NEW SECRETS IN COMING YEAR

South Pole Luring Famous Commander—Reached 20 Years Ago by Amundsen

BY F. B. COLTON
(Associated Press Science Writer)

Washington—(AP)—Twenty years ago, in December, 1911, Roald Amundsen of Norway reached the south pole and crowned centuries of gradual advance by men into the polar wastes.

Since then Polar travel and exploration have been revolutionized more completely than in all the centuries that led up to Amundsen's achievement.

Explorers now use radio, airplanes and even submarines to wrest scientific knowledge from the frozen areas.

Two American expeditions to the Polar regions already are planned for 1932.

Rear Admiral Richard E. Byrd will return to his Antarctic base, Little America, perhaps establish a new inland base, map more of the continent with airplanes, and study weather, geology, and life on land and sea.

Williams To Go To Arctic
Capt. F. M. Williams also equipped with airplanes, will spend two years in the arctic on the shore of the Polar sea, making similar studies and broadcasting daily weather reports.

Arctic exploration received its first boost when the search for a northwest passage to Cathay began after Columbus found the way blocked along the direct route west.

For centuries frail ships vainly sought the passage. A rich prize offered by Great Britain stimulated the search, led to exploration of the islands north of Canada and discovery of the north magnetic pole in 1831.

The first ship to make the north-west passage was the Gloa, commanded by Roald Amundsen, which sailed from Europe to Alaska in 1903-04. The northeast passage already had been negotiated in 1878, when A. E. Nordenskiöld sailed the Vega from Europe to Japan north of Siberia.

The North Pole next became the goal of explorers. Admiral Robert E. Peary, U. S. Navy, finally reaching it April 6, 1911, after a sledge journey from the direction of Greenland.

Sir Ernest Shackleton of England discovered the south magnetic pole in 1908-09.

Roald Amundsen was planning a north pole expedition when news of Peary's discovery was announced, and turned southward instead. So did Capt. Robert F. Scott of England.

Traveling by sledge, Amundsen reached the south pole December 14, 1911, planted a Norwegian flag, and left a record of his visit. Scott arrived January 17, 1912, found the note, turned back, and perished in a blizzard.

With both poles reached by parties on foot, the era of aerial exploration in the Polar regions began.

First S. A. Andrea of Sweden took off in a balloon, July 11, 1897 for the north pole with two companions. He never was heard from until the bodies of Andrea and one comrade were found on White Island in 1930.

Reaches North Pole
Byrd, then a lieutenant-commander, first flew to the north pole in an airplane May 9, 1926.

Two days later the dirigible Norge, piloted by Gen. Umberto Nobile of Italy, flew over the pole from Spitsbergen and on to Alaska. Sir Hubert Wilkins flew by airplane across the arctic sea in the reverse direction April 15, 1928.

A month later, May 23, Nobile piloted the dirigible Italia to the pole and crashed on the return journey. Some of the crew including Nobile were rescued. Roald Amundsen set out by airplane to seek missing members of the crew and never returned.

Admiral Byrd led an expedition to the antarctic during 1928-30, was first to fly to the south pole; and is the only man to fly to both poles. An attempt of Sir Hubert Wilkins to reach the north pole by submarine the past summer ended in failure.

TOM BLANTON MOST IRREPRESSIBLE MAN IN U. S. CONGRESS

Texas Representatives Participate in Almost Every Debate

BY RODNEY DUTCHER

Washington—One looks down on the House floor and realizes with a start that among the many things this Congress brought was the irrepressible Tom Blanton of Texas. One had almost forgotten.

Blanton is the loudest, proudest congressman. He bellows on all issues and nearly all bills. The issue dearest to his heart is the Blanton issue. He has spent many days and used acres of space in the Congressional Record while arguing his own virtues. He has convinced many of us that he is industrious, shrewd and sincere as well as noisy, irritating and ridiculous.

Tom tried for the Senate in 1928, lost and was off the federal payroll. R. Q. Lee, the man who got his House seat, died and his widow ran to succeed him. Blanton shrieked at such sentimentality, pointed out that Congress would pay Mrs. Lee her husband's salary for a year and brandishing figures showing how much money the government spent on burying congressmen. The persons held their noses, but Blanton defeated the widow and came back.

Spend an afternoon watching him on the floor. They're debating a new tax bill which would soak residents of Washington. Tom participates, being an old hand at bossing this oppressed capital, but more often he is on the Blanton issue or something else extraneous. (Blanton is heavily built, short, curly-haired and looks more like an Irishman than most Irishmen. When he isn't fighting or boasting he is usually tossing blame at fellow members. That's how he gets most of his applause.)

Blanton suddenly gets 10 minutes of time, starts by razing the Republicans, breaks into a fulsome eulogy of Speaker Jack Garner as the nation's savior, introduces for the Record one newspaper editorial praising Garner and another attacking Hoover, then announces that Congressman Beedy of Maine is a Yale Law School graduate, an old debating team hero, a profound lawyer, a "wonderful" lawyer, but a poor defender. He refers to "these splendid hills presented by this splendid committee, headed by our splendid colleague from Michigan, Mr. Mapes" and then jumps into a yard or two of enthusiasm over Congressman Frear of Wisconsin, citing some of the latter's record.

But he is only warming up for a tirade of acrimony directed at Mrs. Blanton's bright young son. His constituents will receive their copies of it in due time.

No vacation in 12 years, says Tom. He spent all his time during recesses investigating bureaus, commissions and departments. Some of them are only warning up for a tirade of acrimony directed at Mrs. Blanton's bright young son. His constituents will receive their copies of it in due time.

Chinese Coolies Forced To "Feed" Japanese Big Guns

BY MORRIS J. HARRIS
(Copyright, 1932 Associated Press)

Shanghai—(AP)—The men behind the Japanese guns in Shanghai's war of paradoxes are Chinese coolies.

In addition to their own armed and Khaki-clad legions, the Japanese are being assisted in their assaults upon the Chinese 19th route army by large groups of half-clad Chinese who, under force, carry the ammunition to the big guns in the Japanese forward position, ammunition which is to be used on the coolies' own brothers and cousins across the lines.

These coolies are taken forward each morning by the Japanese in trucks. They are searched for arms and then carefully told off to make certain one of them have "gone snip."

After this they are set to work moving armaments and supplies to the front line divisions. They man a long line of heavily loaded wheelbarrow and rickshaws which links up the supply depots at the front in an almost unbroken stream.

Not all of these coolies come back. Frequently they are exposed to the Chinese fire and suffer casualties. Some of them return, carried by their fellows and heavily bandaged. They wear white armbands with a bamboo sprig as identification. They are careful to maintain a studied attitude of unconcern toward the tremendous military activity that seethes around them. Even the gaudily painted tanks with scowling guns draw no more than a glance from them as they rumble by.

When the day is over, the coolies are again herded together at the point of the bayonet, checked off and taken back to Shanghai again.

Another army of Chinese coolies works at the Japanese air field at Yangtzeport, leveling the field for the Japanese planes, building barbed wire entanglements, digging trenches and moving boxes of explosives from one place to another. Several Shanghai Chinese have complained that they were waylaid by Japanese marines and sailors at the guns' point, to help unload boxes from Japanese military trucks. This was denied, however, by Japanese authorities.

Miss Eleanor Hinder, American Young Women's Christian Association secretary, reported that a Chinese servant of Miss Viola Smith, United States trade commissioner, was taken, with a group of ten others, by six Japanese marines and required to work 24 hours unloading trucks, under threat of death if he refused.

Portage, Wis.—Just because Fred Turner, 74, took Mrs. Hattie Thomas, 71 as far as the courthouse is no sign he intended to get married. That was his plea in response to her breach of promise action, and the court agreed with him. Mrs. Thomas wanted $9,000 damages.

SEE IMPROVEMENT IN FOURDRINIER WIRE

New Commercial Standard Has Been Established for Product

(Post-Crescent Washington Bureau)
Washington—Improvement in the quality of fourdrinier wire cloth, made in Appleton and used in paper-making, is expected to result from the recently established commercial standard for the product, the department of commerce believes.

The new standard represents the cooperative effort of wire cloth and paper manufacturers. Confusion will be eliminated, the department says, by the establishment of a standard basis of mesh classification and definite specifications as to the proper size of wire to be used in weaving the cloth.

Special attention is directed to the seam of the cloth, which must be flat and straight and instructions are given covering inspection, packing and labeling.

The label used will set forth the mesh, kind of wire, width and length of the cloth, and in addition will include a guarantee statement indicating conformity to all the provisions of the standard.

An appendix includes instructions regarding the proper care of fourdrinier wire cloth in use and close adherence to these recommendations will result in extended service and attendant economies, the department predicts.

A glossary defines the terms.

Appleton And West Green Bay Play To Capacity House Tonight

WINNER WILL REMAIN AT TOP OF CONFERENCE

Standing Room Only Available; Second Teams Play Preliminary

FOX RIVER VALLEY CONFERENCE

TONIGHT'S GAMES
West Green Bay at Appleton.
East Green Bay at Oshkosh.
Fond du Lac at Sheboygan.
Marquette at Manitowoc.

Appleton and West Green Bay high school basketball teams will clash tonight in what may be the deciding game of the Fox River Valley conference. The teams are tied in standings with nine wins each and one defeat, the winner of tonight's game staying at the top, the loser stepping down into second place.

Appleton's one defeat was at the hands of West several weeks ago.

PEOTTER READY; TICKETS ALL GONE
Bill Peotter, center in the Appleton high school basketball team will be available for duty in tonight's game, according to the attending physician. Peotter has been using his injured knee the last day or so and probably will be able to play through the night that it may go bad again.

There will be no tickets sold tonight high school authorities have announced. The ticket limit was reached Friday morning and none will be sold tonight.

by a 21 and 9 score; the Orange showing only a fair defense that night and a ragged offense that never got started. West's defeat was in the second game of the season when Sheboygan tumbled the team at West Green Bay.

Game Sellout
Tonight's game already is a sell out and there probably will be just a few tickets for standing room sold when the armory doors are thrown open. Because all seats are unreserved, the "reserved" seats being chairs in the balcony that go to whoever gets there first, fans are warned they should get to the armory as soon as possible.

When Neenah played here several weeks ago more than 300 persons were waiting at 7 o'clock for the doors to open. The same situation probably will exist tonight.

Whether Appleton will have full strength tonight is a question. Reports this morning were that Peotter might play but the danger of his knee going bad persists and makes his services a question. If he fails to show Johnston will take the pivot post on the jump and either he or Mortell will work the pivot post on offense.

Bowly, Rule and Friebe will draw the forward assignments and Mortell and Verrier will show at guard. Defensively Appleton rates the same as West with 113 points scored against each. Offensively the Orange hasn't done so well trailing the Bays 20 to 171.

R. Wolfe in Lineup
Coach Murphy White of Green Bay will have his best talent available tonight with healing of Raphey Wolfe's injured leg. Wolfe will work with Wilson at forward. Bernio Wolfe will play at center and Flaherty and Schlawski will do the guarding.

Two games are on tonight's program, the reserve teams of the two schools clashing in the preliminary at 7 o'clock. Appleton reserves under direction of Coach Myron Selms haven't lost a game this season trailing West at the Bay by a fair margin.

Other conference games tonight show East Green Bay at Oshkosh with the latter doped to win. Fond du Lac at Sheboygan where the Chairs will come out in front and Marquette at Manitowoc where the Ships should crash through to a win.

Bob Grove Holding Out For $35,000 From Macks

BY JOE VILA

NEW YORK—(CPA)—It isn't often that good old Connie Mack loses his temper. He is known as one of the good-natured men in baseball. He is beloved by players and fans and what he says about the national pastime usually is accepted as gospel truth. But the famous manager of the Athletics now suddenly has given vent to ill feeling caused by the extraordinary demands of Robert Moses Grove and Ruben Walberg, the Athletics' left-handed pitching ace.

Grove says that he will not sign a new contract for a penny less than $35,000 for this year and Walberg is on strike for a $15,000 document. Mack declares that he has offered these young men the same pay they drew last season, during which they were important factors in putting the A's into the world series.

"Grove and Walberg will have to sign at our terms," says Mack.

In the other windup Joe Biel of Oshkosh meets Bobby Hermance of Milwaukee.

Weyenberg is scheduled in the third bout of the evening and will meet Frank Vogel, Milwaukee, who calls himself "Bearcat" and lays claim to the Wisconsin-Illinois heavy weight crown.

Fort Myers, Fla.—(AP)—Lefty Grove and Connie Mack have had their fun with Grove's joking offer to play Connie a round of golf to settle their salary difference, and Connie's return suggestion that they stage the match in Chicago for a bigger gate, but now Connie's through talking about his holdouts.

Chaff 'n ChatteR

By Gordon H. McIntyre

Some Superlatives
THE loudest fighter in the world is Jack Sharkey.

The strongest fighter in the world is Max Schmeling.

The silliest fight ever staged was between Jack Sharkey and Phil Scott two years ago at Miami, Fla.

The greatest pitching showman-ship the world ever has seen was shown by Grover Cleveland "Keep your shirts-on" Alexander when he stopped the Yankees in the world series of 1926.

The greatest pitcher of them all was Walter Johnson.

This will be Babe Ruth's 13th year with the Yankees. It probably will be unlucky—for some pitchers.

Takes Himself for Ride
The ridingest guy in the world is Sir Malcolm Campbell, who drove his Bluebird 245 miles an hour last year and isn't even satisfied with that.

The smartest man in the fight racket today is Leonard Sacks, who has conducted the Dempsey comeback tours, Nos. 1A to 99B.

The runningest person in the world is Paavo Nurmi, who is training to do 26 miles in two hours when they hold the Olympics at Los Angeles—and he won't even be chasing a street car.

The most baffled look ever seen upon a man's face by this observer was expressed by Old Will Dempsey after he had taken a pasting around at the crude hands of King Levinsky.

FRITZ CRISLER ACCEPTS POST AT PRINCETON

Minnesota Athletic Director Will Be Tiger Football Mentor

PRINCETON—(AP)—After several dismal football seasons, Princeton has definitely broken away from its policy of alumni coaching with the appointment of Herbert O. "Fritz" Crisler as its new head football coach.

The appointment of Crisler, who several days ago said he had received an offer from Princeton, was definitely announced last night by Thurston J. Davies, supervisor of athletics at Princeton. Davies said he had been informed that Crisler had signed a three-year contract.

Crisler, a University of Chicago graduate, has been head coach and director of athletics at the University of Minnesota. He recently gave up the coaching part of his duties because he found it too arduous to hold two jobs, and Bernie Bierman of Chicago was named Minnesota coach.

Although Crisler said he considered the Princeton offer "too flattering to be refused," Davies announced that his salary would "not be in excess of the faculty scale." It is understood that the highest paid member of the regular Princeton faculty receives about $10,000 a year.

Crisler will take over his new position with the coaching of the 1932 football team. Davies announced that the names of the men selected as his assistants will be announced later.

Crisler faces a difficult task in building up a winning team at Princeton. In the past two seasons the Tigers have won only two games, both of them from Amherst. They have lost 11 out of 14 games, tying Chicago in 1930, and face another stiff schedule next fall.

When the Newark ball club banqueted Colonel Ruppert the other night, a waitress spilled soup on his back. Wonder if the scorekeepers put it down as too hot to handle.

Jim Jeffries has been refereeing ring bouts lately. Well, that's how Jack Dempsey got his start.

ERNIE SCHAAF, STRIBLING TO CLASH TONIGHT

Georgian Favored Because of Great Showing in Chicago Rings

CHICAGO—(AP)—Ernie Schaaf, Boston's youthful defier in wholesale knockouts, attempts the loftiest hurdle of his stirring drive toward the heavyweight throne room tonight by engaging W. L. (Young) Stribling, the noted Georgian, in a 10-round struggle.

The bout, rated as the first important heavyweight battle of 1932, literally placed both fighters on the pugilistic spot, notably Schaaf. A victory for the fast climbing Georgian would make him probably the most formidable contender for the heavyweight crown after Max Schmeling and Jack Sharkey finish their title argument in June, where as a defeat would force him to watch the championship tussle from the sidelines for at least another year.

Stribling, who was turned back by Schmeling last July in Cleveland, knew as did everyone else that a decisive victory was paramount. He was hitting the comeback trail and realized he couldn't afford another setback.

Keenly aware of their situations, both fighters were out to win by knockouts and nothing else.

Because of his greater experience, ring generalship and his reputation in Chicago rings, where he has never lost a decision, Stribling was ranked as a slight favorite. Schaaf, however, was expected to have two big advantages—about 18 more pounds in weight and the infectious confidence built up by his great knockout sweep through the heavyweight ranks. Since his battle with Schmeling, Stribling has engaged in but four matches, knocking out three opponents of the set-up variety and winning one decision.

WRESTLING BOUT. MARATHON CONTEST

Joe Malcewicz' Seconds Toss Towel to Give Sonnenberg Victory

MILWAUKEE—(AP)—Wrestling went marathon here today.

The match, started at 10:05 last night, ended early today when a battered and bleeding Joe Sonnenberg was declared winner over the tiring and bleeding Joe Malcewicz after two hours, 24 minutes of tugging, butting, grappling and battling.

Malcewicz's seconds finally threw in the towel—token of defeat.

The match was scheduled for two out of three falls to a finish but the wrestlers—and most of the crowd of 4,000—were finished by the time big Joe decided to give up the fight.

For more than an hour the heavyweights twisted and turned, neither gaining advantage. They were nearly worn out from exertion. The referee called a halt, waved the contestants to their corners and told them to get their breath. They spent 15 minutes wrestling and returned to the ring.

Sonnenberg, one-time claimant to the title, got so furious in the minutes prior to the towel-tossing and was beginning to wear down Malcewicz.

Nick Lutze defeated Joe De Vito in 20:48 with a body slam; Ernie Scharpege and Frank (Man Mountain) Leavitt went to a 20 minute draw; Bull Martin, Chicago, was disqualified for roughness in his match with John Freberg, Minneapolis.

There also was a short musical program given by the musical organizations of the high school under direction of Miss Lucille Austin.

KAUKAUNA CAGERS MEET TWO RIVERS

Coach Little's Quint Crippled by Absence of Two Regulars

Kaukauna—Kaukauna high school cagers will travel to Two Rivers Friday evening with a crippled team to play the Two Rivers quint in a Northwestern Wisconsin conference game. Kaukauna was victorious in the first meeting of the teams here several weeks ago, coping an easy victory. However, with two regulars definitely out of the lineup, the Kaws will have a hard time winning again.

Coach Paul E. Little has had little chance to drill the squads this week, due to illness of several players. Two of the sick members were able to return the "squad Thursday evening, but little could be accomplished. Reserves will be used throughout the Two Rivers game in an effort to save the regulars for a clash with East DePere the following week.

Reserves may be unable to check the Rivermen, and in case of this Coach Little will be forced to use his regulars to keep in the conference race. The lakeshore team staged a brilliant offensive at East DePere last week but lost a one point decision. Last year the Littlemen copied a victory from the Rivermen after they had lost one game to the lakeshore outfit on their own floor.

Coach Little probably will start Vils at center, using Captain Clarence Koch and Dix at forward posts. Koch is the regular center, but can play at forward. Farwell and Van Leshout will be at guard positions. In reserve Coach Little will have Wolf and Grogan, forwards, and Heinz, a guard.

Your Birthday

WHAT TOMORROW MEANS TO YOU BY MARY BLAKE "PISCES"

If February 27th is your birthday, the best hours for you on this date are, from 8:50 a. m. to 10 a. m., from 2 p. m. to 3:15 p. m. and from 7 p. m. to 8:30 p. m. The danger periods are from noon to 1:25 p. m. and from 5 p. m. to 6:50 p. m.

February 27th is regarded as being a critical time, especially in the more personal side of life, and family difficulties will have to be solved. Good influences will be at work, but their effect will not be felt until a later date. A difficult time for elderly people through minor health troubles.

Children born on this February 27th will have keenly sensitive natures, and their lives will be deeply colored by their childhood impressions. They will require sympathy and understanding for they will be creatures of varying moods. They will be far more affectionate than they appear to be.

Born February 27th, your ability to talk will win both admiration and enemies. You are wrapped up in yourself and you do and say everything with an ego to personal effects. You are a very poor listener, and are visibly unhappy when you cannot have the floor. You have more sentimentalities than depth of feeling. You exaggeratedly flaunt both your joys and your griefs before the world; you only think and act in superlatives. You are excitable and are easily swept off your feet by emotional storms. You have an uncertain temper, and are either very approachable and full of sunshine or most unapproachable and like a thunder cloud.

There is little fixity of purpose in your "make-up," and you often go off at a tangent before you reach your original goal. You do not lack intelligence, but it is difficult for you to keep your thoughts collected. It is hard for you to get down to brass tacks, or to keep your feet on earth long enough to be practical. It is not easy either to harness your im-

Who's News Today

BY LEMUEL F. PARTON
Copyright, 1932, By Cons. Press New York—(CPA)—Stars are prodigious today for red-headed old maids.

Herbert D. Brown, chief of the bureau of efficiency, summoned today before President Hoover's economy committee, has proclaimed them the most efficient workers. In his austere, bespectacled and statistical career, Mr. Brown has winnowed out the following observations about workers:

Flappers—not so good; all right for slapdash work, but not much else.

Fat men—terrible; their wits are usually as ponderous as their persons.

Married women—pretty good if the aren't worrying about their children.

Bachelors—not much good; they fool around too much, lacking the good of responsibility.

Red heads—acc high; always pepped up and busy, and not cursed with ultra-conservatism.

Old maids—splendid; no foolishness and no stopping to powder their noses.

Best male worker—the tall and wiry, "lean and hungry" type.

Second best male worker—the small, sprightly man.

Widows—just so-so; they lack a sense of stability which makes for efficiency.

Prize ham—the ponderous, deliberate man, 6 feet tall with shoulders a yard wide.

Born in Fort Madison, Iowa, 61 years ago, Mr. Brown started clocking workers for the government in 1905, as special examiner of the bureau of corporations. He has been at it ever since. He, himself, is tall and lean.

Young Corliss Lamont takes sharp issue with his father, Thomas W. Lamont, a partner in J. P. Morgan & Co. Addressing the Tom Mooney meeting here last night, he urged that "capitalism be buried in the deep, deep grave where it belongs."

Tom Mooney's mother was there and 15,000 cheered.

Corliss Lamont is Harvard '24, Columbia post-graduate and assistant professor of philosophy at the latter institution. He started as a rebel in his undergraduate days, fighting to allow Eugene V. Debs to address the students and, as head of the Harvard union, seeking to "democratize the university."

"After all," he says, "a millionaire has only stomach. Hence, this minority invests its vast surplus of money for the sake of still more profits, recklessly producing and piling up goods which the great majority cannot afford to purchase. Now if this is not a stupid and crazy system, what is?"

Lamont pere is complacent about all this and they are good friends.

A thick-headed London "booby" started Sir Malcolm Campbell on his racing career—climaxed Thursday by his effort to beat his world record of Wednesday. When he was sixteen, he was arrested and fined 25 shillings for speeding on his push bicycle. The boy was angry.

"I'll show 'em some speed," he said.

He did. He began auto racing in 1905 and has been at it ever since. He says he has $10,000 worth of racing cups, but not much else. He always carries a horse shoe in his car. He works for Lloyd's. He is 47, handsome, blue-eyed, smooth shaven and wears Bond street clothes. He was knighted a year ago.

agination long enough for you to see ungarlished cold facts.

Your mate must not expect too much stability of your affections, for you are susceptible to flattery and love to be loved.

MILZ CHAIRMAN OF GARDEN CLUB

Temporary Officers Selected at Organization Meeting in Kaukauna

Kaukauna—Fritz Milz was named temporary chairman of the Garden club of Kaukauna at the organization meeting Thursday night in the council rooms of the municipal building. Miss Marie Regenfuss was appointed temporary secretary. About 25 members attended.

Mayor B. W. Fargo gave an address on the Parkway System of Landscaping, which will be used in Kaukauna. The next meeting of the club will be Tuesday, March 8, in the council rooms. Anyone interested in gardening is invited to attend.

283 UNEMPLOYED NOW REGISTERED IN CITY

Kaukauna—With registrations of unemployed reaching the 283 mark Thursday evening, legionnaires began preparations for the drive to find jobs.

When CHILDREN

—don't gain weight
—don't grow strong
—don't keep well

The stomach is not to blame when a child is finicky about food. Nor is every sluggish girl or boy constipated. Instead of a lot of medicine, give a little pure syrup of figs. You'll see a change in twenty-four hours! In a couple of weeks, your youngster will have the appetite of a young animal!

It's true, mothers, for it's Nature. California syrup of figs is bottled health for the little ones.

For Any Sluggish Child

Pale, sickly children whose tongues are always coated, and who are never really hungry, are suffering from stasis. That means a sluggish colon; a colon clogged with waste. They need the California treatment. You can give this treatment yourself, any time, anywhere. It's simple. Every druggist has California syrup of figs all bottled, with full directions for a babe of two years or child in his teens. Its delicious taste makes it delightful to use; no child ever tired of it.

Start tonight, giving enough to cleanse the colon of every bit of poisonous waste. Then a spoonful or so, every other day, until the child's appetite, color, weight, and general health tell you all sluggishness or constipation has been conquered.

When a cold or severe sickness has sapped a child's strength and stamina, remember California syrup of figs.

IMPORTANT!

If you want to get real results, get the real California syrup of figs. Do not accept any bottle which does not say CALIFORNIA Syrup of Figs.

BACK RAILROAD, GROUP ADVISED BY COMMITTEE

Road Classified as One of Chief Industries. Advancement Body Told

Kaukauna—At a meeting of the industrial committee appointed by the advancement association, to investigate railroad conditions in Kaukauna, the following report was submitted:

"Owing to truck and bus transportation, the railroads are forced to eliminate both passenger and freight trains, thereby crippling the service to all shipping and passenger handling these trains under light load and no passengers is a large figure."

"The railroad is classed as one of Kaukauna's industries, maintaining 125 families, and therefore entitled to our business, and we all feel that they should be considered more than other common carriers not employing from our city, particularly on all freight and passenger business."

"We also wish to say that these employees living in our city, owners of property and taxpayers, who are thrown out of employment, which curtails their buying power, and also curtails the power of the merchants, is bound to have a very bad effect on our city as a whole."

Pay Land Taxes

"Here are some other reasons why this statement is made. The Chicago and Northwestern Railway Co. in 1931 paid $2,407,170.10 in operating property tax. In addition they paid taxes on miscellaneous assets, land, amount of $48,000, and tax on land grants amounting to $2,000. The pay roll of the road in the state of Wisconsin for the same year was $19,151,500. Of this vast amount, the city of Kaukauna received its full share, as they maintain about 125 families in the city. The more loss to shipping and passenger service, the more of these families are taken out of service, and the more those people shipping by rail are hurt on account of service rendered being crippled."

"Therefore may we ask that the shippers and receivers of our city, both large and small, give this matter serious thought, as the future lies largely with them."

"For the reason above stated, we, the committee recommend that the Kaukauna Advancement association pledge its business support to the Chicago Northwestern Railway Co. as far as possible to bring about the desired result."

Members of the committee were John Copes, chairman, Peter Penn, Charles E. Raught, H. S. Cooke, William F. Ashe, Louis F. Nelson, Dale Andrews, John Ditter, Ed Haas, and Joseph J. Jansen.

find jobs. Starting from legion hall at 6 o'clock Friday evening, the legionnaires will canvass the city, visiting each resident and seeking two hours or more of work at each home. In this manner it is hoped to place one man to a block, keeping him busy working in the block for a week. The plan will operate until the middle of June.

HALF OF PLAYERS IN TOURNNEY DUE TO BE WEEDED OUT

Upset Probable in Julian Goldman Contract Bridge Competition

New York (P)—At least half of the top-flight bridge players of the East will be out of the running to-night when the finals for the Julian Goldman pair championship are played at the Hotel Roosevelt. They were sliced from the field in last night's semi-finals by the inexorable mathematics of contract. Here are a few who failed to survive: Theodore A. Lightner, Willard S. Karn, Baron Waldemar von Zedlitz, Walter Malowan, S. Stearn, George Keith and George Unger. Among the victors are P. Hal Sims, captain of the "horsemen," and his running mate, "Ossie" Jacoby; Mrs. Culbertson, and her partner, W. J. Huske; David Burnstine, Howard Schenken, Sidney Lenz, and Commander Winfield Liggett, Jr. All of these will carry substantial match point credits into the finals, and the odds today were in their favor. But the remaining dozen pair of relatively unknown players upset the "dope" to reach the finals. One of them may do the trick again, and win. Contract bridge is like that. Most of the finalists are New Yorkers and all live in the Greater New York area.

The finals also will be played to-day in two other tournaments, the mixed team of four event for the Wilbur C. Whitehead Memorial city championship trophy, and the teachers' tournament for the Banfield cup.

There were many excellent hands last night, including the following, which netted Mrs. Culbertson and Huske a little slam in spades.

North S-A 4 H-J 8 6 2 D-Q 4 3 2 C-10 9 7

West (Huske) East (Mrs. Culbertson) S-Q 9 8 7 S-K 5 3 2 H-K 9 7 4 3 H-A Q 5 D-10 D-A 9 6 C-K J 2 C-A 8

South S-J 10 H-10 D-K J 8 7 5 C-Q 6 5 4 3

The bidding: East, one spade; south, pass; west, 3 spades (a forcing bid justified by freak distribution and strong trumps); north, pass; east, 6 spades (a daring bid that utilized every possible value) all pass. South opened the 10 of hearts, which Mrs. Culbertson took in the closed hand, returning a spade which north took with ace. North failed to return a heart the only play that could have defeated con-

BRITISH NEWSPAPER PRAISES AMERICAN ACTION IN FAR EAST

London (P)—The Manchester Guardian, commenting editorially on Secretary of State Henry L. Stimson's letter to Senator Borah on the Sino-Japanese crisis, said today "unlike the other powers concerned in the Far Eastern crisis, America has from the beginning had a consistent policy." The editorial said this policy was outlined with great lucidity in the Stimson letter and that the American attitude "ought to create a firm basis for cooperation between the United States and the league of nations."

"Unhappily," it added, "as far as can be seen, the league council is taking virtually no advantage of this almost unique opportunity."

FLASHES OF LIFE

Tenino, Wash.—That old one about "don't take any wooden money" isn't funny here, where wooden money is welcome indeed. When the bank closed, some medium of exchange was needed, so the chamber of commerce issued "money" printed on veneer slips in denominations of 25 and 50 cents and $1. Everyone is glad to get it.

Milwaukee.—Peter Schaller's stunt for keeping out of court didn't work. Held as a disorderly person, he ripped up all his clothes in his cell and suggested to officers that he was in no fit shape to go to court. The police put an officer's uniform on him, and later the court decided to hold him for observation.

Carroll, Iowa.—When the frost is out of the ground in about six weeks there will be more money in circulation. A farmer, seeking a bank loan, said he could repay it when the ground softens enough for him to dig up his money jar.

When you pour Amaizo GOLDEN SYRUP on your pancakes

—you probably do so because you like the rich, full flavor of this most delicious syrup—and that's a very good reason. But do you know that Amaizo Golden Syrup, in addition to tasting so good, is of a purity and quality so high that it has been approved by both the American Medical Association and Good Housekeeping Institute. Which gives you other good reasons for continuing to use Amaizo.

Amaizo Crystal White Syrup is another Amaizo product, of equal quality and purity, but of a slightly different character; for use in making dairy desserts, cakes, sauces, etc.

At all grocers. Look for the Amaizo name and the gingham background design.

What is the PRICE OF BEAUTY?

Without health there can be little natural beauty. The wise woman knows that the condition of her body shows itself on her face, her complexion, and in her eyes.

She takes care to avoid constipation. This treacherous ailment frequently causes headaches, sallow skin, pimples, premature aging.

Try the pleasant "cereal way" to protect yourself from constipation. Science has proved that Kellogg's ALL-BRAN provides "bulk" to exercise the intestines, and Vitamin B to tone the intestinal tract. ALL-BRAN also furnishes iron, which helps build up the blood.

The "bulk" in this delicious cereal is much like that of lettuce. How much safer than abusing your system with pills and drugs — so often habit-forming!

Two tablespoonfuls daily will correct most types of constipation. ALL-BRAN is not habit-forming. If your intestinal trouble is not relieved this way, see your doctor.

Get the red-and-green package at your grocer's. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

Do you think it will pay you to take a chance on unfamiliar Meats just because they are a few cents cheaper? If the meat is distasteful it spoils the entire dinner . . . and no dinner is better than the meats you serve in it. There are, of course, prices in town lower than Voecks Bros. — but you won't find any better quality anywhere.

Often times there are occasions when you have guests for dinner and naturally want to serve the very finest meats. At Voecks Bros., you will always find a fine assortment of first quality "selected" Meats, Poultry and Sausages . . . you can depend on that.

NELSON BILL PUTS TEETH IN RAILROAD ACT

Madison Representative Charges Commission With Neglect

BY RUBY A. BLACK
(Post-Crescent Washington Bureau)

Washington—Charging that the Interstate Commerce commission has failed to exercise proper diligence in the enforcement of the recapture clause of the Transportation act, providing that one half of all railroad profits in excess of 5 per cent be collected into a fund for weak railroads, Representative John M. Nelson of Madison has introduced a bill to put teeth into the law by providing severe penalties on railroads that do not comply.

Nelson charges that although the probable recapture liability of the railroads is admittedly over $361,000,000, the commission has collected only about $10,679,085. He says the legality for the recovery was fully confirmed by the supreme court in the Dayton and Goose Creek cases. During recent hearings before the house committee of Interstate and Foreign Commerce, both the commission and the railroads favored repeal of the recapture clause on the grounds that it could not be enforced.

Nelson further charges that evidence brought out in the hearings showed that the recapture liability estimated by the commission for the railroads owned by large corporations, such as the United States Steel, was more than eight times the amount collected. This evidence was, incidentally, brought out by material submitted by Rep. Nelson at hearings of the Interstate and Foreign Commerce committee, but the commission witnesses explained that the railroads had never been brought to accept the evaluation method upon which this estimate of profits and recapture liability was based.

The late Senator Robert M. La Follette was responsible for the passage of the Valuation act, requiring the commission to make regular evaluation of railroads and Interstate Commerce Commissioner Baltimore Meyer of Madison now has charge of the valuation division of the commission which complies with the La Follette act but to whose methods the railroads are objecting. Bills now before congress to repeal the recapture clause would not only allow the railroads to continue to earn excess profits but would require the government to return the money collected under the recapture clause—all money taken from the shippers, says Nelson.

Nelson said that the amendment proposed by the commission to abolish the recapture clause would pay back $5,955,560 to the steel corporation and would release to them an equal amount from the carrier's reserve fund. Fifteen railroads belonging to this group have an estimated recapture liability of $52,353,641 but have only paid $6,337,056 or about 12 per cent of this—and it will be returned if the recapture clause is repealed, Nelson said.

Him, as a wholly satisfying nourishment. He is "the living bread which came down from heaven." When He first declared this great truth, there were many who were offended by His claim and complained that "This is a hard saying." It is indeed a "hard saying," to those whose hearts can not receive it. It becomes, however, a very beautiful saying when we have found that God comes in Christ with a promise of complete satisfaction for every possible or conceivable want. Since God is the fundamental necessity of our souls, and Christ is the manifestation to us of God, it is profoundly true that if we partake of this Bread which is Christ, we will live forever.

Prayer: We thank Thee, O Heavenly Father, that Thou hast given Thyself to us through Jesus Christ. We bless Thee for the Light that shineth upon us, and for the spiritual Bread with which our souls are nourished. May we partake of this Thy Food unpurged, to satisfy our great hunger, and, as we partake of it, may we do so with thanksgiving, in fellowship with all our brothers. Thy children, who share in Thy love and in Thy plentiful grace. Amen

COUNTY VETS MAY RECEIVE FULL PAY IF BILL IS PASSED

Immediate Payment of $1-120,173.60 Would Then Be Authorized

BY RUBY A. BLACK
(Post-Crescent Washington Bureau)
Washington—World War veterans in Outagamie co will get about $1-120,173.60 as full payment of adjusted service certificates, if the Patman bill, now before Congress, providing for immediate payment of face-value of certificates becomes a law.

The total payments in Wisconsin, after deducting prior loans and interest on these loans, would equal $52,431,847.04, according to the Veterans' administration. The total of $12,938,931.92 in Milwaukee county is the largest for any one county in the state.

Totals for counties neighboring Outagamie are:
Brown: $1,253,242.16 Calumet: $390,565.32 Oconto: $470,726.24 Waupaca: $69,711.92 Winnebago: $1,366,938.45

Many Unemployed
Speaking on behalf of his bill recently, Rep. Wright Patman of Texas stated that about 1,600,000 veterans are either out of work or are working only part time from one to four days a week at greatly reduced wages and therefore need their certificate money.

Three million six hundred thousand adjusted-service certificates are held by that number of veterans of the World War. Patman said "The average value of the certificate is

$1,000. The certificates do not represent a bonus, they represent an honest debt that has been confessed by Congress for services rendered."

"The average veteran has borrowed 50 per cent of his certificate, the limit allowed by law. He is paying compound interest on this loan to a bank or to the Government—the one holding his certificate as collateral security for the 50 per cent loan. If the remaining 50 per cent is not paid to the veteran now, it will practically be consumed by compound interest."

If it is paid now, the entire nation will be benefited by the additional purchasing power being put into the hands of so many consumers who will put it into circulation. It will not be hoarded. The Government will be saved tens of millions of dollars annually in administration expenses if the certificates are paid now.

WHOOPIING COUGH DEATHS TOTAL 56

Madison—Deaths in Wisconsin from whooping cough during 1931 but a marked increase was registered during the first months of this year, the state board of health said today.

The board condemned the attitude that "children might as well catch whooping cough and be done with it" and suggested that children afflicted be isolated immediately.

STATE DOES NOT PAY BOUNTY ON FOXES

Outagamie co hunters who shoot foxes will realize only what the pelts bring them for there is no bounty on the animals, according to word from the state conservator on commission. The information that bounties no longer are paid was received by County Clerk John E. Hantschel Thursday from H. W. MacKenzie, chief conservation warden, Madison. The information was received in answer to the application of Lawrence Mansfield, route 1, Shiocton, for bounty on a fox he recently captured.

U. S. RADIO BODY FINISHES FIVE YEARS OF WORK

Becomes Established Part of American Living Standard

BY ROBERT MACK
Copyright, 1932, By Cons. Press
Washington (CPA)—Five years of arduous service in the regulation of radio, during which that industry has grown from a more or less unknown quantity to an established part of the American living standard, are now being rounded out by the Federal Radio commission.

It was on Feb. 23, 1927 that President Coolidge announced the appointment of the first radio commission as a temporary agency to "bring order out of chaos in broadcasting." On March 15 of that year the commission held its first meeting—a nondescript little agency with no clerical help and no appropriation, for congress had forgotten all about it in the budget. It was only through the good office of Herbert Hoover, then secretary of commerce, that the commission acquired desk space in the old commerce department building, as well as the loan of a few clerks.

Today the commission has become one of the most active of the group of independent commissions functioning for Uncle Sam in Washington. Its personnel totals more than 100 and its expenditures amount to approximately a half million a year, aside from a similar amount spent by the radio division of the department of commerce, which acts as the police force of the ether and which regulated radio before the commission was created.

Sykes Is Veteran
There remains on the commission one who served on the original board. He is Eugene O. Sykes of Mississippi, its vice chairman. Judge Sykes, now beginning his sixth year as a radio official, called to order the first meeting of the commission on March 15, 1927, in the absence of Admiral W. H. G. Bullard, who had been designated chairman and who at the time was en route from Peking, China. Other members of that original commission were Col. John F. Dillon, former radio supervisor on the Pacific coast, who died shortly after his appointment; Henry A. Bellows, now vice president of Columbia Broadcasting system, and O. H. Caldwell, of New York, now editor of several radio and electrical publications.

In the five years that have elapsed Judge Sykes has served with ten different commissioners. An eleventh—Col. Thad H. Brown, general counsel of the commission—has been appointed to fill the vacancy created by the resignation last month of Judge Ira E. Robinson of West Virginia, but he has not yet been confirmed by the senate. Judge Sykes from the first has been the commission's vice chairman.

When the first commission was appointed it was as a temporary agency for the avowed purpose of restoring order in broadcasting. The year before the attorney general had issued his celebrated opinion in which he held there was not effective law governing radio.

Started Landrush
This ruling, called the "breakdown of the law", resulted in a landrush of stations, which cropped up like mushrooms overnight and preempted wave lengths. Congress enacted the emergency legislation and the commission was created.

Great changes have taken place in the past five years in radio. The commission found that broadcasting, while it was the immediate problem and the one which affected the public directly, was only a small factor in its duties. Radio communications of every character had to be regulated—a task that entailed meticulous ous care and thorough investigation. Thus, the commission was extended, as a temporary agency, year by year, for three years. Finally, congress decided that the job was a permanent one and adopted a new law delegation to it complete regulatory powers.

Today the commission still seems confronted with endless work. Even now it is in the midst of the most comprehensive investigation of broadcasting ever instituted, in compliance with the Congress resolution criticizing excessive advertising over stations.

EAT MORE; LOSE 10 POUNDS OF FAT IN 10 DAYS

An Italian Discovery

Drink Water Before Breakfast and Make One Change in Diet Only to Rip Off Ten Pounds in 10 Days

HERE is sweet music, in scientific tempo, for fat people's ears. "Eat more to grow thin."

Thank to a unique Italian discovery, thousands of people are doing it. Losing as much as seven pounds a week, and building their health as well.

Here's the way. So if you want to get rid of some bulk, cut this article out and save it. Chances are, in a week, your friends will be wondering what you've been doing to yourself to get rid of the fat they used to tease you about.

What You Do
FIRST: As soon as you get up in the morning, put two tablespoonfuls of sparkling Brioschi Italian effervescent in a half glass of cool water; and drink it down while it is still effervescent. This tends to de-acidify the system before food touches the stomach.

NEXT: Make just one simple change in your diet. Eat Double the quantity you now eat of certain foods; and cut down on others. Here are the foods to double on; the ones to cut down on.

DOUBLE on these: Carrots, spinach, oranges, cabbage, lettuce, new turnips, white squash, sauerkraut, broccoli, fresh peas, apples, and all green vegetables. See how much of these you can make your stomach hold. Eat also your usual appetite's requirement of any lean meat. Beef, veal, chicken, etc., etc.

Cut on these: Eat bran or whole wheat bread instead of white bread or biscuits. For dessert have fresh fruit instead of pastry. Cut down on butter but don't cut it out entirely.

BEFORE BED: Repeat two tablespoonfuls of sparkling Brioschi Italian effervescent in half a glass of water to again de-acidify the stomach. Don't think, either, that this is hard. It makes a really pleasant drink that tastes like lemonade, not like vile-tasting salts. So everything is easy.

The result of this dietary change will be that you'll really have MORE than you want to eat, yet will see fat go in a way you wouldn't have believed. And, you'll feel more active than you probably have for years. For the diet that takes off the fat, cut this article out and save it. The de-acidifier you use is called Brioschi Italian effervescent (pronounced Bree-oh-sky). You can get it at any drugstore.

SEEK FEDERAL AID FOR VET HOSPITAL

Antigo Superintendent of Schools Before President's Board

BY RUBY A. BLACK
(Post-Crescent Washington Bureau)
Washington—Seeking to persuade Uncle Sam to use the Antigo Memorial Hospital for Veterans for the hospitalization of disabled veterans in Northern Wisconsin, R. E. Ballette, superintendent of schools of Antigo, is in Washington, to submit evidence in favor of government cooperation in the Antigo hospital project before the President's Hospital Board.

Representative George J. Schneider who has contacted members of the board in connection with the proposal was informed that the chances for favorable action on the Antigo proposal are slight, as the government policy now is against using any but government for hospitalization of veterans. Schneider advised the Antigo people that their best chance for obtaining a government hospital for veterans under these circumstances would be to offer to sell outright the $250,000 hospital.

RICH WOMEN LESS FAITHFUL THAN POOR

London—Women, in the opinion of Sir Ellis Hume-Williams, are less faithful than men. Sir Ellis goes further to state that rich women are less faithful than the poor.

But it's the man who's to blame for a woman's infidelity, the well-known expert on divorce believes. "Very often it is the husband's fault, because men still exist who think, once they have married a woman, she is their property and they can do whatever they like with her. Women resent this. The husband must show his love by tenderness and constant care, otherwise the woman, starving for affection, will take it where ever she can. "The wife of a man in the poorer classes is occupied with so many home duties that she has no time for philandering. The result is much less infidelity among the poor, while the well-to-do woman who has no household duties is idle most of the day and ripe for intrigues."
